Holds Little Hope of Just Peace

Eisenhower Says Russian Stand on Berlin 'Illogical'

Macmillan, Khrushchev Resume Talk

British Leader Jolted By Premier's Fiery Statement on Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev resumed their talks today in an atmosphere heated up by Khrushchev's la'est, public avowal that the Soviets will not make concessions on West Berlin or German unification.'

Macmillan was obviously shaken by Khrushchev's fiery statement to a political meeting in the Kremlin Tuesday while his British guest was away from Moscow. Khrushchev said the Soviet Union sees no point in a Big Four foreign ministers meeting, will not deal with the Western Allies on German unification and still plans to give the East Germans control of Allied supply routes to West Berlin.

Joins Macmillan at Villa

Khrushchev motored out today to Uspenskoye to join Macmillan and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd at the villa 25 miles from Moscow which was put at the Britons' disposal for their visit. Khrushchev was accompanied by Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Over lunch and into the afternoon, the two delegations were to continue the discussions which they last held at the Kremlin Monday.

A British informant said Khrushchev will fly to Kiev Thursday in the same plane with Macmillan.

This had not been on the schedule. Macmillan and Lloyd were to have gone alone to visit Kiev.

After two days in Kiev, Macmillan will leave by plane Saturday morning for a day's stay in Leningrad, then return for final formal talks Sunday.

British Caught Off Guard

The sudden free-wheeling tactics of the Soviet premier caught the 65-year-old Macmillan off balance halfway through his 10-day visit aimed at bringing better understanding between East and West.

Shocked by Khrushchev's ebullience at a British Embassy cocktail party Tuesday night a few hours after he made a sudden biting attack on the west, Macmillan commented in a stunned undertone: "This is an extraordinary method of diplomacy."

Macmillan, suffering from a heavy head cold and looking weary, excused himself from the party early while the Soviet premier bounced around the room joking and making offhand quips to diplomats and newsmen. The prime minister spent the night at the country villa, and today was

PESSIMISTIC ON LABOR BILL. GOP Congressional leaders said after a White House conference Wednesday that it may be "completely impossible" to get a worthwhile labor reform bill from the House Labor Committee. House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana (left) and Senate GOP leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois are shown as they told newsmen outside the White House that President Eisenhower strongly advocates a single-package bill, and GOP efforts to write one will be made on the House floor. U.S. Will Not Budge, Reds Are Warned

West Is Determined To Preserve Rights, President Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Soviet Union's attitude regarding Berlin is so illogical it offers little promise for establishment of a just peace.

With much emphasis, Eisenhower told a news conference the United States will not give one single inch in its determination to preserve the rights and responsibilities of the Western Allies with respect to Berlin.

Comments on Red Attitude

The President expressed his views in commenting on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's cold attitude toward the proposal by the Western powers for a foreign ministers conference on Germany.

A reporter asked Eisenhower for his views on what the newsman termed the Soviet Premier's informal rejection of the Western proposal. The reporter noted it came without prior notice to British Prime Minister Macmillan at the very time Macmillan was in Moscow for discussion of such matters.

Eisenhower called Khrushchev's attitude obviously and palpably intransigent, or unyielding.

The President went on to say the Kremlin leader's position has been well-known all along, but that he now seems to be emphasizing it.

As for Khrushchev's blast at the West's proposal for a conference on the Berlin problem, Eisenhower described it as a development which certainly cannot be called a hopeful one.

Doesn't Promise Much Hope

Then he went on to say that the Soviet Premier's attitude is so illogical that it doesn't promise much for establishment of a just peace.

The President dealt with these other topics:

LOPEZ MATEOS — Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez Mateos has accepted Eisenhower's invitation to visit the United States in the spring. Eisenhower was Lopez Mateos' guest for two days of informal talks last week at Acapulco, Mexico.

NON-AGGRESSION PACT—Eisenhower said he sees no great objection to any of the Western allies entering into a nonaggression pact with Russia. But he and Dulles always have felt, Eisenhower went on, that member countries of the United Nations already are bound by such pacts.

Any agreements entered into separately with the Soviet Union would have to be effectively drawn

Ohio Senate Set To Boost Aid for Aged

Democrats Fulfilling Election Pledge, Lift $65-a-Month Ceiling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Today the Democratic Ohio Senate fulfills a campaign pledge to lift the $65-a-month ceiling on aid-for-the-aged awards. Estimated cost is 13 million dollars in the next two years.

Senate approval will send the measure to the Democratic house.

State payments to the needy aged now average about $58 a month. Passage of the bill would not mean automatic increases for all of them. Aid payments are based on a budget of needs. There is little prospect of a wholesale increase in these budgets.

Instead, the removal of the ceiling is intended to relieve the financial pressure generated when a recipient's needs far exceed the $65 maximum. The measure includes the needy blind.

It also removes the citizenship requirement for eligibility and eases residence requirements.

In major legislative developments Tuesday:

The House Conservation Committee approved 15-3 a bill allowing hunters to shoot Bob White in state-controlled areas and on other lands under agreements with farmers. The hunting season would be set by the Ohio Wildlife Council

Named by Mayor

Tozzer Appointed Engineer for City

The appointment of Jack C. Tozzer, 37, of near Marion, to the post of Marion city engineer was announced today by Mayor Wendell L. Strong.

Mr. Tozzer, a native of Marion, will assume his new duties Monday, the mayor said.

He is a graduate of Harding High School with the class of 1940 and Ohio Northern University with the class of 1944. He attended an officer engineering school at Cornell University while in the Naval Air Corps during World War II.

Since 1946 he has been associated with his father, Carl H. Tozzer, in the firm of Tozzer and Associates at 299 Clover Ave.

Jack said today he is in the process of moving into his father's residence at the Clover Ave. address. His home is located on the Edison Pike. He said he will reside on Clover Ave. until he is able to locate permanently in the city.

A former candidate for Marion County Engineer, Jack is a third generation engineer. His grandfather, Henry Tozzer, was in private engineering in Cincinnati all his life and his father, Carl, came to Marion in 1918 as assistant city engineer. His father was Marion County engineer for eight years.

In announcing Mr. Tozzer's appointment today, the mayor said: "I personally feel that Jack will bring to the city engineering department the experience and progressive know-how necessary in our traffic and street programs which is going to be very vital to future planning."

JACK C. TOZZER
Will Assume Post Monday

Mr. Tozzer said today that he plans to take a leave of absence from his position with Tozzer and Associates and that he feels that he should not do any private work while he is employed as a city engineer.

He is a past president of the Young Republican Club of Marion County and is a member of the Marion County Republican Club. He also is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers, the Consulting Engineers of Ohio, the American Congress of Surveying and Mapping and is listed in Who's Who in Engineering in the U.S.

Mr. Tozzer is a member of Bird-McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, the Elks Lodge and the Emanuel Lutheran Church.

He is married to the former Miss Norma Wertz, daughter of Mrs. Floyd Wertz of 633 E. Center St. and they have one son, Brent, 6

Man Is Fatally Hurt in Mishap At Cardington

Harvey Martin Dies Of Injuries Received When Struck by Auto

CARDINGTON — Injuries received when he stepped in front of a car on E. Main St. here Monday night proved fatal to Harvey Martin, 84, of Cardington. Mr. Martin died at the Morrow County Hospital Tuesday night at 7 o'clock.

According to Ed Kirk, Cardington village marshal, Mr. Martin stepped into the path of the car driven by Adolphus Birkmeir, 58, of Cincinnati at 6:50 p.m. In the impact Mr. Martin suffered a broken left leg, abrasions and internal injuries.

No charges were filed against Birkmeir and he was allowed to proceed on his way.

The accident happened 100 feet east of the Center St. intersection in the center of town.

Mr. Kirk said Birkmeir's car was headed east and Mr. Martin

Has No Intention of Retiring

Meany Plans To Retain Presidency of AFL-CIO

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—George Meany has informed fellow AFL-CIO chiefs, it was learned today, that although he will soon become 65 he has no intention of retiring as federation president.

Meany let this drop at Tuesday's closing session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council's winter meeting. Meany will become 65 next August just before the federation's scheduled San Francisco convention in September when officers come up for election.

Not Mandatory

It is permissible, but not mandatory for top AFL-CIO officers to retire at 65.

The biggest story of the council session came on closing day with the disclosure that Walter Reuther head of the United Auto Workers Union, prevailed to a major extent in a hot internal AFL-CIO fight over federation policies.

"The feud established on a stronger basis than ever that Reuther, who was head of the old CIO before it was merged with the AFL, is clearly No. 2 man to Meany in the 14,000,000-member federation.

The fight started when council sessions got under way last week. Meany blew up in remarks to Reuther and James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Reuther Bawled Out

The AFL-CIO president tried to banish Carey to the end of the council meeting table and bawled out Reuther for making economic policy decisions without consulting him.

Reuther threatened to resign as chairman of the AFL-CIO Economic Committee. Part of the argument concerned Reuther's plan for the AFL-CIO to sponsor a mass march of unemployed on Washington to spur job aid action by Congress and the administration.

Meany reportedly felt this was too drastic. One word led to another. There was a good deal of cussing. Reuther and Carey charged Meany was trying to dictate AFL-CIO policies.

The upshot is that Meany and other federation leaders agreed to beef up their forthcoming Washington unemployment demonstration.

It won't be the mass march on the capital Reuther had in mind. But it is now planned to fill the capital's big armory with 3,000 to 4,000 idle workers and union officials and possibly stage a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue.

The high Tuesday was 35 and the overnight low was 19.

Body Found in Apartment

Galion Musician Dies At Home in Washington

GALION — Theodore Schaefer, 48, one of Galion's most talented musicians, was found dead in his apartment in Washington, D. C., Tuesday.

Mr. Schaefer was the organist at the National Presbyterian Church in Washington where President and Mrs. Eisenhower attend. He had been organist at the National Church for almost 20 years.

Mr. Schaefer's body was found some time after he died. Relatives here were unable to learn the cause of death, but it was learned that Washington officials are investigating it.

Mr. Schaefer, in addition to being organist at the National Church, also was piano accompanist for Marilyn Miller, noted opera soprano, and the two had just recently completed a tour of the West Coast.

The musician was born in Galion May 25, 1910, to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Schaefer. In 1928 he was graduated from Galion High School. Later he was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University

In 1929 he studied music at Fontainebleau, France. He had further musical study at the Union Theological School of Music in New York City. A few years ago, Mr. Schaefer was awarded a doctorate from Maryville College in Maryville, Tenn.

Mr. Schaefer started his piano lessons in Galion under the late Miss Bessie Todd. It was his sister, Mrs. Reuben M. Pounder, organist at the Peace Lutheran Church here, who interested him in organ music.

After Mr. Schaefer left Galion he was organist at the Congregational Church in Mansfield for eight years before going to Washington.

He has made several appearances in Galion. Some years ago he gave a recital at the dedication of the First United Church of Christ and a few years ago he accompanied Miss Miller in a concert here.

He spent last Christmas Day

Secretary 71 Today

Dulles To Make Decision On Return, Ike Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that John Foster Dulles himself will decide—following intensive cancer treatment over a period of weeks — whether he is physically able to carry on as secretary of state.

Dulles became 71 years old today. He is undergoing radiation treatment for abdominal glandular cancer at Walter Reed Hospital.

Eisenhower discussed the outlook for his foreign policy chief at a news conference. He said that a point will come between Dulles and himself when a decision will be made about whether Dulles continues in the top ranking Cabinet position.

Eisenhower told the conference not to think it is a matter of Dulles' wanting the job. It is a question instead of Dulles' dedication to the work, Eisenhower said. He added that if a time comes when Dulles cannot be restored to the degree of health necessary to carry on his duties the secretary will let the President know.

Dulles will make that decision himself, Eisenhower said. He added that will be shortly after intensive treatment is finished and Dulles has an opportunity to get some rest.

Eisenhower was asked what he thought of a suggestion from some Democratic senators that Dulles should be replaced.

He replied that he would try to be mild—that is, not get angry. He then mentioned such senators as Mike Mansfield (D-Mont), John Sparkman (D-Ala), John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Homer Capehart (R-Ind) who have publicly recognized what Eisenhower called the great value of Secretary Dulles to the United States. They have expressed the hope and prayer that Dulles will be spared, the President added, and they are men concerned with the national welfare.

Dulles, one of the world's most traveled men, celebrated the birth-

Dissolution Stayed

Conservancy District's Fate Rests With Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Like an occupant of the death cell, the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District has only a temporary court order between it and the end of the line.

In this case, it's a temporary restraining order, issued by Judge William C. Bryant in the 10th District Court of Appeals here Feb. 20. The restrainer halts breakup of the district, ordered Dec. 29 following a 12-5 vote of Common Pleas judges representing the 17 participating counties.

Until actions are settled by the prosecuting attorneys of Pike and Pickaway counties, and the city of Columbus and its mayor (Maynard E. Sensenbrenner) the order also restrains directors from returning more than $400,000 to the counties from which the money was collected.

Troubles Not New

But the district—to put it mildly—has seen trouble before.

It exists because the south-flowing Scioto River and the northbound Sandusky, and their tributaries, can overflow into each other at high flood stage. Most authorities say it would take quite a flood to accomplish this, but the watersheds are adjoining in Crawford, Hardin, Marion and Wyandot counties.

The basis for creating a conservancy district is Ohio's 1914 Conservancy Act, a result of the 1913 flood which took 454 lives and did millions of dollars in damage. The flood hit the Scioto and Sandusky basins hard.

A Conservancy Court, the one that voted to break up the district last December, has jurisdiction over the district. Each of the 17 member counties is represented by a Common Pleas judge. It was this court which organized the district in December, 1934.

Execute Court Orders

There is also a board of directors. Two new directors, Clyde Lewis of Delaware and James H. Parriell of Washington Court House, were named last December to carry out the dissolution. The directors execute the orders of the court.

The area involved is west central Ohio, from Lake Erie to the Ohio River. Included are Crawford, Delaware, Fayette, Franklin, Highland, Marion, Madison, Morrow, Pickaway, Pike, Ross, Sandusky, Scioto, Seneca, Union, Vinton and Wyandot counties.

Trouble appeared early. There were resignations and appointments of new persons as early as 1935. Many court actions followed. But in the meantime, an Ohio State University professor, C. E. Sherman, had made studies and prepared a flood control plan. It was hoped the Public Works Administration (PWA) would finance the plan, but a preliminary report was requested.

Requirements Not Met

Although Sherman completed the report in less than three months, it was decided the project would not meet PWA requirements.

There followed a disagreement over what part, if any, the U. S. Army's Corps of Engineers would play in studying the project for possible federal money. A suit filed to get rid of the board of directors was dismissed in June, 1937, but two directors resigned shortly after.

The Army Engineers finally began a study, but before any recommendations could be considered, World War II came.

In December, 1945, federal money arrived to begin the Delaware Reservoir, selected seven years earlier under the federal Flood Control Acts of 1937-38. The acts said the government would pay the whole cost of flood control projects where estimated benefits might exceed costs.

Comprehensive Plan

Following the war, the district decided to act on a comprehensive plan. To finance it, directors levied a .3 mill assessment against all real estate in the district on Feb. 15, 1947. The plan was finally completed and adopted by directors in January, 1951.

It called for seven flood control and water conservation reservoirs, including Delaware Dam; local flood protection at Fremont, Columbus and Chillicothe; a water storage reservoir near Bucyrus; levees along the Scioto south of Columbus, and an anti-water runoff and soil erosion program.

Some of the hottest opposition came from Delaware and Union counties where the projected Mill Creek reservoir and dam would take 8,500 acres from tax duplicates and require relocation of the billage of Ostrander.

Clyde Lewis, then Delaware County prosecutor, and Luther Liggett, now a probate judge but then Union County's prosecutor, led the fight. Liggett voted for dissolution last December, sitting for Judge Leroy Allen who was ill.

They ordered their county auditors to withhold final 1947 levy payments until the counties' share of an original loan to cover preliminary expenses was returned. The district filed suit to get the back taxes, but in May 1952, the State Supreme Court ruled the district had to repay. Other counties then filed suit.

To continue its studies and pay its debts, the district levied another .3 mill assessment in August 1952. It was promptly challenged and in July 1953, the Ohio Supreme Court said the district's levies were taxes, not assessments, and had to be approved by voters or county commissioners before they could be collected.

But the fight went on until last March. It was decided then that, since the voters had not protested, the money that had been collected could be retained.

The money is on deposit and its fate, like that of the Scioto-Sandusky district, is apparently in the hands of the courts.

Judges who voted for dissolution of the district made it plain that their action was not because of any disinterest in flood prevention. Most felt that the district was not accomplishing its purpose after many years of effort and expenditure of funds.

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Rush hour driving requires extra patience as well as skill.

Rush hour crowds, boarding and unloading, force bus drivers to use leapfrog tactics in many cities. Resulting turnouts, says the Chicago Motor Club, cause jams among passenger car traffic moving in the center lanes.

The motorist faced with a quick decision either may yield gracefully to the bus or crowd into the next lane and attempt to maintain his pace. This crowding could cause an accident. Good drivers avoid taking advantage of other motorists.

Mansfield Police Seek Canine Purse Snatcher

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Police searched Tuesday for a purse-snatcher described as being light tan, pug-nosed, short-furred and tailless.

The culprit, a large boxer dog, leaped on Brenda Fredericks, 9, as she walked near her home, pulled off her coat, picked up her purse, and fled.

Police found the coat and purse, with contents intact, a short distance away. The canine crook managed to elude a police dragnet.

Municipal Judge Dies

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Municipal Court will be closed for the remainder of the week because of the death of Judge James S. Sturgeon, who died Tuesday in Flower Hospital at Toledo. He had been undergoing treatment for a ruptured blood vessel of the throat. Sturgeon, 45, had been recovering from a cold and became ill last Sunday while visiting in Toledo.

Boards in Two Counties Study School Merger

6 Wyandot, Crawford Districts Hold Parleys On Forming One Unit

BUCYRUS — Another meeting will be held March 9 by three Crawford and three Wyandot county local school boards to discuss further the possibility of consolidation of the six districts into a single district, board members announced today.

At an exploratory meeting Monday night at Holmes - Liberty School five of the six boards involved in the consolidation study indicated they favored "some form of consolidation."

Expressing interest in formation of a single district were members of boards from Holmes-Liberty, Lykens, Mt. Zion, all in Crawford County, and Eden and Nevada in Wyandot County. Antrim board members withheld comment on the proposal, it was reported

Consolidation of the six districts was proposed in a recent survey of Crawford County Rural School situation made by representatives of Ohio State University. The survey suggested the construction of a new $1,000,000 high school building in the Holmes-Liberty area Total tax valuation of the six districts is $23,285,000.

The consolidation proposal is expected to be studied by the individual boards before the next meeting, which will be held at Mt. Zion School, southwest of here.

Total enrollment of the six schools at present is 1,593, including 455 high school pupils.

Galion School Unit To Pay Architect For Stadium Work

GALION — Two motions pertaining to final settlement with the architectural firm employed for work on the stadium-field house at Heise park and two schools, were passed at a recessed meeting of the Galion Board of Education Tuesday night. It was held at the Senior High School.

It was decided to write a letter to the architectural firm of Outcault, Guenther and Associates of Cleveland and call their attention to some defects which should be corrected at the Dawsett and Renschville Schools before final payment is made to the firm. This action was in the form of a motion.

The board also passed a motion to pay its obligations to the same firm for work on the stadium. The board owes $1,500 plus $250 costs for the firm's expenses in drawing up plans for approval, for blueprints and specifications.

Prior to the motions, the board studied the statement sent by the architects. Several other matters also were discussed by the board.

—Genesis 29.16

The story of Rachel is a love story. Listen:

Out of the parched fields of summer, she brought her father's flocks to the well of Haran to quench their thirst.

There she met a young and handsome stranger. He told her his name was Jacob and that he had journeyed from the distant town of Beer-sheba in another country.

Obligingly, he rolled the huge stone from the mouth of the well so that her sheep could drink. And as he talked with the girl and her elder sister, his eyes kindled with a new light. He saw that "Leah was tender eyed; but Rachel was beautiful and well favored."

Her simple shepherd's robe, open at the throat, revealed her smooth skin, sun-ripened like wheat. Even the grass blade that clung to her drifting hair seemed elegant as a plume.

"And Jacob loved Rachel."

His love was immediate and it was intense. He told her father:

"I will serve thee seven years for Rachel thy younger daughter."

Laban agreed, and Jacob submitted cheerfully to the long years of labor for his love.

During that time he saw her grow into full womanhood. And he planned for their future together. He longed to take her back to his home in Beer-sheba. He wanted to present her proudly to his family.

When the seven years were up and the time of Jacob's marriage to Rachel arrived, however, Laban deceived him.

On their wedding night, the girl's father substituted her elder sister, Leah.

When Jacob learned of the deception, he was very angry. But Laban told him that in their country the younger sister could not be married before the elder one.

If Jacob would serve him another seven years, he said, he could then marry Rachel.

Because he loved Rachel so much, Jacob labored another seven years to win her hand.

Bucyrus Church Gets New Pastor

BUCYRUS — The Rev. A. N. Hinrichsen, who has been pastor of the Church of Christ at Willoughby, for the last 10 years, will move here with his family Thursday to take over the pastorate of the First Christian Church.

The Rev. Mr. Hinrichsen succeeds the Rev. R. S. Stephens, who resigned last summer to accept a call to an Akron church. He will preach his first sermon Sunday and will be honored Wednesday night, March 4, at a covered dish dinner and reception in the church.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hinrichsen both are natives of Australia. The new pastor taught in state schools for the department of Queensland in Australia before entering the ministry. He has held pastorates in four of the six Australian states and also in Indiana, Texas and Ohio.

Mrs. Hinrichsen studied music at Melbourne University and is a school teacher by profession. The Hinrichsens have been married 35 years and have three daughters and four grandchildren.

Charm Course Will Be Given At Marion 'Y'

A charm school for high school girls will be sponsored by the Women and Girls department of the YMCA this spring. Opening Saturday, March 7, at 11:30 a.m., the school will be held over a period of six weeks.

The first session will feature a discussion on the topic, "Manners Are Fun," led by Mrs. Howard Geer and Mrs. Wayne Kuhn. Participants will have a sack lunch and dessert will be served at this meeting.

The remaining sessions will open at 1 p.m. on succeeding Saturdays. The program schedule and leaders follow: March 14, "Tricks in Good Grooming," Mrs. Ted Stolarczyk and Mrs. William Van Riper; March 21, "Skin Care," Miss Neil Bailey; March 28, "Recent Hair Styles," Mrs. Julian Wolfe; and April 4, "Physical Fitness," Miss Bailey.

On April 11, the course will be closed with a mother and daughter tea. Those interested must register at the adult desk or call the YMCA. The charge for non-YMCA members will be one dollar for the entire course. Further information may be obtained by calling Miss Bailey at the "Y."

Also announced was an eight-week instruction period in tennis for junior and senior high girls. Girls are asked to bring their own rackets. Registration will be taken at the YMCA gym. Plans for judo and golf instruction will be announced later.

Pennsylvania Railroad Pays Taxes in Crawford

BUCYRUS — The Pennsylvania Railroad Co., the largest real estate taxpayer in Crawford County, paid its first half of 1958 taxes today by turning over a check for $91,543 to County Treasurer Rolland E. Laughbaum.

Mr. Laughbaum reminded taxpayers that the deadline for payment of first half real estate taxes without penalty is Saturday with the office closing at noon.

Alley Dispute Hearing Opens

Damages, Injunction Sought by Plaintiff

Common Pleas Judge Paul D Smith accompanied attorneys to view two Fountain St. alleys this morning before hearing a suit for an injunction and $6,800 in damages filed last October against William Christian of 751 Fountain St

Plaintiff in the action is Elizabeth Thomas of 701 Fountain St who claims the defendant has obstructed public alleys at the south and west edges of her property by parking trucks in them and erecting posts in concrete filled holes

She also alleges Mr. Christian tore down a 12 by 15-foot barn of hers which had ingress and egress to each alley driveway and that he destroyed much of the contents valued at $1,800

She seeks an injunction restraining the defendant from obstructing the alley and ordering him to remove the posts, as well as the monetary damages, $5,000 of which she lists as punitive damages

The defendant waived a jury hearing and requested that the case be heard by Judge Smith alone He is represented by the Marion law firm of Wiedemann and Wiedemann. The plaintiff is represented by the Kenton law firm of Roof and Roof

Liaison Vital on Traffic Project

Today's appointment of a new city engineer will have a direct bearing on the fate of Marion's traffic improvement project in at least two respects.

For a variety of reasons the proper liaison has not existed between the Marion engineering department and the highway department on the development of a traffic plan for Marion.

Consequently, the suggestion made in the City Council meeting Monday night that the new city engineer, soon after his appointment, be sent to Columbus to contact state officials is a good one.

Secondly, as soon as the highway department runs a capacity analysis on State and Prospect streets the way will be cleared for city engineers to begin preparing plans and specifications for the one-way street program.

This task need not be completed in the next few days, or even weeks, but the preliminary engineering work should be ready without fail when the state gives the go-ahead signal on the Marion project.

In the best possible circumstances the job of establishing the proper liaison among city officials, district highway department representatives and the state offices in Columbus on a local traffic program is not easy.

It has been further complicated the last four years by the fact that the people calling the signals in the Marion city administration have been dragging their heels on major traffic improvements instead of providing the necessary leadership.

For what reason? Your guess is as good as ours.

We've never been able to figure it out.

The Saps Who Pay the Piper

There are Frenchmen who have ridden the wave of inflation without damage. And there are Frenchmen who have come close to drowning. Their plight is shown by some startling examples in the February Reader's Digest.

Because French politicians failed to raise enough money in taxes to pay for their give-away projects, the French franc lost value until it is now so nearly without value that the government is issuing 100-franc notes to create a new basis of currency exchange.

The cost of living, due to the politicians' irresponsibility, is 37 times higher now than it was in 1927. This has been the downfall of millions of aging French citizens who conscientiously saved to buy insurance, government bonds, annuities and other fixed-return investments to see them through their declining years.

These citizens, now impoverished, are classified as "economically weak," which is the equivalent of "indigent" in the United States. They have come to grief because the cost of political generosity in years past was taken out of their hides, instead of out of the hides of French taxpayers. There are no less than four million of these unfortunate Frenchmen officially registered. They are the saps who paid the piper.

For example, a widow living on annuities bought out of savings by her husband now must pay 40 times as much for a pound of butter as was being paid when the annuities were being bought out of savings. A citizen who had saved two million francs (about $57,000) for his old age now is able to get about $220 a year, including his government allowance for the underprivileged.

"There is, I believe, one great irresistible force in this country that can stop inflation at its source," in the words of Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., explaining how wage boosts can cause inflation. "That is the force of informed public opinion."

There was no force of public opinion in France while the franc was being milked of its value. There is still no force of public opinion in the United States. The majority party scarcely could wait to launch a free-handed program in Washington after the November elections. Its spokesmen are still plugging for more government giveaways, despite the alarm the Spendocrat philosophy has been causing among financial experts.

The Eisenhower administration, striving to preserve the value of the dollar for the sake of the national credit, is being sneered at by critics who claim it isn't necessary to balance the budget; that what the people want is more important than how much they can afford. Whereupon, the Spendocrats tell what the people want, though in fact it is a far cry from what politicians think they want.

If every American who could be put on the relief rolls by devaluation of dollars to the disappearing point were to write to his congressmen and his senators and tell them what he wants, the Spendocrats would be run out of Washington before the Japanese cherry trees bloom.

Sometimes a Fellow Wonders

It's too late to do anything about it now, but what a lucky break it was for tax collectors when internal combustion engines were made.

If the revenue experts had studied all their lives and been backed up by a joint congressional investigation they could have found nothing handier than a gas pump dispensing fuel by the gallon, with the tax collected on each gallon.

Sometimes a fellow wonders how it's going to turn out, though, if the tax goes up so far that motorists make mileage per gallon go up, too, which is what everybody's insisting on right now. The collectors are tempting the point of no return. Manufacturers are squeezing more distance out of gasoline — and that is the primary reason for the popularity of smaller cars.

There was a story in The Wall Street Journal the other day about a new electric car. A new electric car? Old ladies used to drive them away back when. They were high-up baby buggies with tillers and nothing before or since has been posher than a dowager in an electric with bud vases, filled with fresh-cut rose buds.

Though there has been no story about it recently, there also was the steamer. Every automotive buff knows about steamers. They came to grief because of problems with the boiler, which was far from fool-proof. But today an atomic submarine, which is nothing but a steamer that hisses along under water, can go round the world and again and again until everybody wants it to quit.

An electric, of course, would fall into the domain of the taxers because the idea of the new one is to recharge its batteries with an extension cord. The taxers would get at it through the electric company. But how would they get at the steamer, other than selling it a license tag and its operator a license?

There would be no pump, no meter, no turnstile, no horsepower rating, no anything. Just all that potentiality waiting to be hottened up and turned loose. They used to say no one ever had opened up one of the things all the way, which may be so.

Sometimes a fellow wonders about that too.

Engineering for Space

The space age is upon us, Marion engineers were told at the kickoff of their celebration of National Engineers Week Monday, and the men who brought it in were scientists and engineers.

In George Washington's day, engineers were the men who built roads, bridges and military fortifications.

They still build them today, and in addition design complex industrial machines, chemical processes, electronic "brains" and thousands and thousands of other devices.

They'll still be building roads tomorrow, —and designing space stations, nuclear rockets and million-mile-an-hour spaceships.

The vast contributions of engineers to our civilization are everywhere in evidence today. It seems certain that tomorrow's achievements will be more significant and more spectacular.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The adult answer, "I haven't decided," when asked, "Are you a man or a mouse?" is one reason for the growing delinquency crisis. Kids born into the age of hot-roddism, seeing pop drive a six-passenger car two blocks for a cigar naturally get the idea the Declaration of Independence began with the guarantee of life, gasoline and pursuit of new dance rhythms. Mom and pop's job is to draw the line somewhere and they're not up to it.

Senate subcommittee is now joining in many public inquiries and the chances are that most of the senators and other probers come to the meetings after "yessing" their own kids in such demands as "Can you double my allowance?" "Is it all right if I take the station wagon over the weekend?" and "If I get married while in grammar school, can we live home?"

We hear one chairman of the juvenile problem committee has to walk to the sessions because his son took the station wagon and his daughter has the small car.

PARENTS TODAY say, "We'd better give Junior what he asks or he won't like us." "You heard me, boy!" "I'm laying down the rules around this house" and "One more word out of you and you'll spend the weekend sawing wood," have become parts of the American dead language.

Mood and style of modern life have given the kids ideas which are hard to fight but it is still the parental job to call the turns and run the old homestead despite moppet hysteria, defiant cracks and loud cries of "Why should my parents be stinkers when all the neighbors let their kids have everything?" (Cry from our own household, "Look who's talking!!!")

IN AUTO TRAFFIC and supermarket alleys, "it's what's up front that counts."

Alfred Hitchcock calls those airwave kitchenware commercials "sink to sink shows."

It can be embarrassing to Mrs. Roosevelt if she forgets herself and says, "Please pass the butter."

This is the season of indoor sport shows with exhibition halls displaying trout pools in which cash customers fish. A trout in a city sport show is far from its home base, but some of them, under 12 hours a day exposure to crowds, get sophisticated fast. There are fish that, under long hours of exposure to city fly-casters, demand coffee-breaks, security and fringe benefits.

We visited a trout pool in the recent New York show and found that a trout can be very "hammy." Fish "go Broadway" as it were. We saw one big "Rainbow" come up to take a bow. You have to throw back these trout, which means they may go on the road and become stage-struck fish.

Distress Signal!

Fulbright's Denial

By David Lawrence

Sen. J. William Fulbright, Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has denied the report published in the Soviet government's weekly "New Times" which gave the impression that the Arkansas senator had told a Communist writer softer treatment of Soviet Russia by the United States could be expected if the Democrats should win the 1960 presidential election.

Lawrence

The article was written by Stanislav Menshikov, son of the Soviet ambassador here, while visiting in Washington recently. Inasmuch as the ambassador's son was writing for a Soviet government publication and was himself a part of the Soviet Embassy entourage during his four-month stay in the United States, the publication of this article, impinging on American politics, becomes the responsibility also of the head of the embassy, Mikhail Menshikov.

Unquestionably the ambassador, was familiar with the mission of his son in approaching Sen. Fulbright for the interview on politics and must have known the nature or contents of the article finally transmitted to Moscow for publication in the government-controlled "New Times."

For an even less tenuous connection with American politics, a British envoy was expelled from Washington by the United States government many years ago.

MEDDLING IN American politics by any diplomatic representative of a foreign government has always been considered by the United States government as an improper activity.

In an early instance, "Citizen" Genet, the diplomatic representative of the French government, criticized the United States in public for issuing a proclamation of neutrality in the war then going on between France and Great Britain. When he threatened to appeal over the head of President Washington to the American people, his recall was requested by the secretary of state, Thomas Jefferson.

In 1952, the Soviet government itself requested the recall of Ambassador George Kennan because of some remarks he made to the press while in Bonn, Germany.

THESE COMMENTS were critical of the Soviet government, which, in a formal note, declared that he had committed "a rude violation of the generally recognized norms of international law."

To this, Secretary of State Acheson replied that the Soviet itself had disregarded the rules of international intercourse and that what Mr. Kennan had said was true.

Anyway, the recall, of course, took effect, as it is the custom to comply with the requests of other governments when they declare any member of an embassy or legation to be "persona non grata" of unacceptable any longer to the resident government.

Mikhail Menshikov, the present Soviet ambassador, has violated the rules in more ways than one. He refused last November, for instance, while at the Department of State to listen to a tape recording which dealt with the crash of an American unarmed airplane in which 17 Americans were killed.

To refuse to accept a part of any communication submitted in diplomatic intercourse and, in effect to challenge its veracity is to offer an insult to the resident government. For ambassadors are regarded as channels of communication and, if these are inoperative, there is little use in continuing to receive the same ambassador as an accredited representative of his government.

Letters to The Star

Urges Fight on Corruption Everywhere

To The Star: On the date of Feb. 19, there appeared in your publication, The Marion Star, a letter to The Star by J. E. Edington; also an editorial of the same date which affected me very deeply.

Now, do not be misled into believing that I am criticizing either Mr. Edington or The Star for these articles. On the contrary, I wish to commend you both for making use of the printed pages of the free press in order to arouse public sentiment and to bring pressure to bear on legislative powers as well as other public officials who have been elevated to a position of public trust, by and through a vote of confidence of the people.

IT IS HIGH time for someone or everyone who assisted in placing these public officials in office to use any or all possible means available to bring pressure to bear on them to use their influence not only to curb the publication or sale of vulgar, currupt and obscene literature but also the corruption practices of union labor leaders, corruption in politics, corrupt practices of big business and unethical and unfair practices used by the National Association of Manufacturers as well.

Again I wish to compliment both of you writers of these articles, but Mr .Editor there is one point in this editorial in which I am forced to lock horns with you, so to speak.

It is your caption to this article, which read "Union Curb, It Could Be Done." That I will agree, it could and by all rights should be done, but on this one point I positively will not agree. You stated "union curb." This, my dear fellow, is taking sides or in other words being sort of biased in your statement. Why do I say this? This is why. You must remember that the rank and file of union membership contains not only grafters and other types of faulty and corrupt principled leaders and members, but it also is composed of honest-hearted, hard-working, tireless, fearless civic-minded men and women who also are citizens and church members of your community.

So please, remember, my dear Mr. Editor, that when you use the medium of free press to create and arouse public sentiment that unless you are careful to pinpoint corruption and place it squarely on the heads and shoulders of those who really are to blame for any corrupt principles you just might be doing some honest-hearted member a grave injustice.

But, on the other hand, if you do use the printed pages of the free press to create public sentiment and bring pressure to bear on careless and indifferent public officials in order to curb any form of currupt principles, no matter what, when or where, then I commend you for your action.

Now I ask this question. We are well aware that there are plenty of currupt practices used in many places and in many ways in our American way of life—in politics, in employment practices, by labor leaders who have crept in and by corrupt methods usurped power to gain and maintain control.

WHAT IS THE duty of the legislators of Congress as well as other public officials whom we place in a position of public trust by a vote of confidence; what are they doing to earn the money we pay them?

Are they simply using this position of public trust to which they have been elevated to provide themselves with a fat juicy meal ticket while some of us who assisted in placing them suffer the effects of deprivation, misery and want, as well as need?

My dear readers, I hereby challenge you as well as public officials to use every possible effort to curb all types of graft, corruption and all other principles used to poison the minds of trusting people.

Problems Continue

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

While Secretary of State John Foster Dulles fights cancer—and the world awaits the outcome—American problems in foreign policy ring the earth.

Dulles is able to read newspapers and magazines and, while it is no doubt comforting to him, it probably also strikes him as ironic that after all the criticism he has drawn in his six years in office, he is now being lavishly praised.

The praise ranges from mild to excessive, including the suggestion that he is indispensable. Looked at coldly the word "indispensable" is a little less than realistic when applied to any man.

IF TOMORROW Dulles decided he no longer could do his job and resigned, some one would have to take his place. No matter how valuable a secretary has been, this country has long been accustomed to acquiring a new secretary every time a new administration takes office.

True, Dulles has so completely dominated and handled American foreign policy that no one could now just step in and take over without some hitches, strains and delays until he could master what a secretary of state needs to know.

Most of the talk so far about whether or not Dulles will continue in office, or have to retire, seems to be a conversation piece.

It may be some weeks before either Dulles or his doctors can know whether he will be able to resume his job full-time, part-time, or not at all. Meanwhile there are problems that need continuing attention.

FIRST AND FOREMOST: What to do about the Soviet demand that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin and leave it a free city. Unless handled right, the West's whole position in Germany could crumble.

The West is bracing itself for a showdown on Berlin, perhaps around May 27. As late as Tuesday Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was being tough and unyielding, despite Allied proposals for a foreign ministers conference to talk about it.

In the background, always, is the continuing problem of how to cope with Red China's growing strength and its inevitable influence on all Asia where the United States has built up alliances which have hardly been tested yet.

AMERICA'S relations with its friend, the Philippines, have deteriorated and need fixing. Then there's the task of trying to help India, with its bursting population and extremely low living standards, to improve its economic conditions.

Moving west a bit, there is the still unsolved problem of trying to get along with President Nasser of Egypt and keep him out of the clasp of communism.

In Iraq, which had been closely tied in with the United States until a revolution destroyed both King Faisal and his regime, the Communists, and through them the Soviet Union have steadily gained influence.

At this moment there seems a genuine puzzlement over Iraq — whether or not it may go Communist. If it does, the U.S.S.R. will have gained its first indisputable foothold in the Middle East.

Such an event would call for a complete rearrangement in the thinking of the Arabs and the West. To say it would cause a convulsion in the area seems mild.

RIGHT NEXT DOOR is another American friend, still friendly: Iran. The task here is how to keep it friendly and help it resist Soviet threats and pressure.

Behind the upcoming crisis on Berlin, of course, is the old problem for the United States and its allies of how, in a way satisfactory to them, West and East Germany can be unified.

Tuesday Khrushchev brushed the Western Allies aside, saying the question of reunification could not even be discussed by the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France. He said it is a question for the "two German states themselves."

All these enormous burdens, awaiting solution, are on the shoulders of Dulles who is 71 years old today and fighting for his life against cancer.

Spring Training

By Truman Twill

Baseball players are loping off to spring training, a springtime event that always gives pause to us desk-bound utility infielders.

It makes us wonder how we would shape up if we went loping off to the sunshine belt to get ourselves into condition each spring before starting a new season.

It makes us wonder, moreover, what would happen if we could start a new season. Many a ballplayer who goes into a slump one year snaps out of it the next year and is acclaimed as Mister Comeback.

If it was his first year in the Big Time he may be acclaimed as the best freshman. Baseball has all kinds of gimmicks for spurring on its players — Most Valuable Player awards, most improved infielder who bats left-handed etc.

But at this time of the year what baseball has that nothing else can take the place of as a multi - million - dollar gimmick is spring training.

Hope springs eternal.

Take Everett Reddy. Old Everett has been around a long time, though the records say he's only 38. He is expecting to have one of his best years.

"I worked out every night in Pete's Neighborhood Bar and Grill," Everett explained. "Mostly I was table-hopping, but if there was bouncing to be done, I bounced. And if a customer wanted someone to talk to, I was as willing to take his money as the next guy. My legs are in great shape. I have been resting them since my last turn at bat last fall. I struck out."

Everett's lifetime batting average is in the low 200s, but he is dangerous with men on the bases. Always considered a glove man, he admits he has lost some of the jump on the ball that once made him the terror of tangle-footed banjo hitters. But he makes it up in savvy. Everett improves himself by studying opposing batters. He never takes his eye off them. He doesn't dare.

The notion last year that Reddy might need his bifocals modernized was rejected during the winter. "Specialists tell me I have the vision of a 14-year-old," said the utility infielder between fungoes at Fort Flitt where the Flamingoes went into training yesterday. It did not seem important to explain the specialists were talking about a 14-year-old dog. Everett Reddy has turned into quite a philosopher. People or dogs—it's all one to him.

When he hangs up his glove he is hoping for a chance to hang up his coat somewhere in the game that has been his life.

"Fact is," he admitted in the shade of the dugout, "I need work. I haven't saved any money. Never had any to save. This club is a cheap outfit, and for what they were paying me they couldn't afford to trade me for someone better, because nobody was twice as good

"It's all I know how to do—throw a little ball around, pick it out of the dirt, make the long throw and take my turn in the cage. It has been a good life, but if I had a chance to do it over I'd take vocational training instead of dropping out of school in the third grade.

"But you can't beat the hours in baseball and for a fellow with no aptitude for anything else it's an easy way out, especially this spring training jazz, with your picture in the paper and everything made to sound plausible and seem possible. Be sure to spell that last name with two Ds—Reddy, as in Reddy, Aim, Fire."

Especially the spring training... You ain't kidding, Ev.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — Reparation by Germany was the question of outstanding interest at the peace conference. The French were opposing the American view that indemnities should not be extended to cover the payment by Germany of the Allies' cost of war while France wanted to "put everything on the bill and got as much as possible."

President Wilson was in the White House after an absence of 13 weeks. He planned to make three public speeches before returning to France in early March.

20 YEARS AGO — Thousands of Italian citizens living in France left for their homeland in a mass exodus under Premier Mussolini's repatriation order for Italians abroad.

10 YEARS AGO — General Motors Corp. cut prices and wages as the cost of living index dropped for the fourth straight month. The price cuts ranged from $10 to $40 on all GM passenger automobiles and Chevrolet trucks. Wages were reduced two cents an hour for 273,000 production workers.

The trial of 15 Protestant churchmen opened with a plea of guilty by Nikola Naumov, a Baptist minister, to crimes against the Bulgarian state. The 15 clergymen were accused of treason, espionage and black market money dealing.

Terrorist Tactics Led to Downfall

Batista's Army Rebelled at Atrocities

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP)—People get hurt in revolutions.

The Batista regime, as the constituted authority threatened by Fidel Castro's rebels, fought back. Then Batista's army, his last hope for survival, began to destroy itself. One of the factors that brought about its destruction was its officers' efforts to apply the horror chamber techniques that Batista's national police had been using even before Castro landed in Oriente province in 1956.

Third of a Series

Stories of atrocities committed against defenseless guajiros — the poor agricultural laborers of eastern Cuba — shattered army morale and led to defections and subversion.

UNABLE TO COPE with the guerrilla strategists in the Sierra Maestra, the army's leaders tortured and killed guajiros in efforts to extract information on the rebel army's movements.

One of these army leaders was Capt. Pedro Morejon, executed early this month. A Castro military tribunal convicted him on separate counts of assassination, homicide, theft, arson and damage.

He and two other officers, now dead, Firmin Cowley and Jesus Sosa Blanco, were the most dreaded operatives of repression in Oriente province. Maj. Sosa Blanco—executed last week — was accused of 108 assassinations, Morejon of 33.

COL. COWLEY, their superior, has been accused of personally machinegunning the 15-man rebel crew of the yacht Corintia that made an ill-fated landing on Cuba's north shore near Holguin Nov. 7, 1957. Eyewitness accounts say Cowley was furious at seeing the captured rebels, one of them wounded, being brought in alive. He took a tommygun from a guard and shot the rebels.

This led to a wave of terrorism Holguin residents call "Black Christmas." It was about the time Fidel Castro's rebel incursions into the lowlands from the Sierra Maestra had been growing bolder and more frequent.

Army activity against civilians tightened. At dawn of Dec. 24 the bodies of 12 brutally beaten civilians were found in the streets of Holguin. A few days later Cowley was shot dead in a hardware store by a rebel band.

THE ARREST and grilling of some 200 citizens followed. Civic and fraternal organizations protested to Capt. Rafael Lavastida, who had been named to replace Cowley. All but seven of those arrested were released. A few days later the tortured bodies of six of those were found on a highway. Authorities said they had been killed in a rebel ambush.

None of the testimony at the military tribunals has linked Batista personally to an act of brutality. He has said in his Dominican exile that he knew nothing of them. Castro leaders scorn this idea. In requesting his extradition from the Dominican Republic, as a "refugee from justice," Castro's Foreign Ministry said the deposed dictator was the "maximum author and instigator of numerous cases of assassination, theft and malversion of public funds."

Bohemia, a widely circulated pictorial news magazine, says Batista was present when flying squads of national police left the Presidential Palace in quest of suspects in the attempt on Batista's life March 13, 1957.

BATISTA NARROWLY escaped death that day. A band of armed youths penetrated to the second floor of the palace before being mowed down by guards.

Forty-four persons, some not connected with the attack, reportedly paid with their lives in the national police roundup. Among them was former Sen. Pelayo Cuervo Navarro, an opponent of the administration. Bohemia says he had no connection with the assassination plot.

More than 300 former Batista regime officials—police and army officers—have been executed for "major war crimes." A large number have been absolved or given prison sentences.

Bloodmobile Will Visit Bucyrus on Thursday

BUCYRUS — The Columbus Red Cross bloodmobile will be located at the Elks' Home here Thursday for its first visit of 1959 under sponsorship of the Crawford County Red Cross chapter.

The Rev. Ralph E. Darling, chapter recruiting chairman, said today that quota for the visit will be 175 pints. At the last visit of the bloodmobile in December, a record high of 191 pints was collected.

Sentenced to Jail

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Carl Moser, 66-year-old chiropractor who has admitted performing abortions for the past 30 years, starts serving a four-month sentence Thursday in County jail. Common Pleas Judge Clande V. D. Emmons sentenced Moser Tuesday and barred the chiropractor from practice for life.

Crawford To Build Two Barns for Fair

BUCYRUS — Two new barns will be constructed at the Crawford County fairgrounds here in time for this year's fair. The Arts Building, one of the oldest structures on the grounds, has been torn down, county commissioners announced here today.

The new buildings will be a pole barn for hog exhibits and a 30-stall race horse barn. The pole barn will be 108 by 40 feet and will be seven and one-half feet high. It will be located south of the Junior Fair Arena. The race horse barn will be 34 by 150 feet and will be built in the vicinity of the present race horse barns at the east edge of the grounds.

Cost of the two buildings is estimated at $8,200. The work will be done by Clyde Kauffman, Bucyrus area contractor.

Commissioners reported that Mr. Kauffman already has torn down the Arts Building and the lumber will be used in constructing the new horse barn. Some timber also will be obtained at the County Home Farm, where a sawmill will be set up in the woods and a number of trees will be cut and sawed into timber.

The Social -:- Notebook

PLANS TO CELEBRATE the 11th birthday of the organization of the Jaycee-ettes were made when members of the group met Monday evening in the Jaycee club rooms. Mrs. Paul Bell, program chairman, announced plans for the affair at which time a birthday gift exchange will be held among the members.

Mrs. Richard Iler gave a report on the project committee and Mrs. Howard Williams reported two bowling teams had been formed. Apponted by the president, Mrs. Grant Fletcher, to serve on a special committee for projects were Mrs. Ed Paulin, Mrs. Howard Williams and Mrs. William Farmer.

Mrs. Patrick Gilmore was a guest. Prizes in games during the social hour went to Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. Jack Bosh, Mrs Troy Evans, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Keith Betler, Mrs. Tom Rohrer, Mrs. Al Daugnitus and Mrs. Donald Hall.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated in red, white and blue in keeping with a George Washington theme and lighted by tapers. Hostesses were Mrs Bell, Mrs. Bosh, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Bernard Lyon and Mrs. Paul Kincaid.

MRS. GLEN ALLEN was welcomed as a new member when the Delphian Club met Monday afternoon in the Women's Club Home. Devotions on the theme, "The Power of Faith," by Mrs. T. A. Robinson opened the meeting.

Reports were given by various committee chairmen. Mrs. Forest Flockencier, art chairman, described portraits and engravings of Washington and Lincoln; Mrs. J. J. Stafford, citizenship chairman, mentioned Golda Meir of Israel was the first woman ambassador from Israel to the United States; Mrs. J. H. Andrews, conservation chairman, spoke on the development of land for wild life, and Mrs. R. I. Butterworth, radio - movies- TV chairman, recommended the picture "South Pacific."

The club endorsed a federation project, "Passport To Safety," designed to improve national driving licensing. This action was taken following a discussion of the subject by Mrs. A. W. McColley, club president.

For the program, Mrs. Frank Detwiler presented a paper, "The Faith of Christianity."

Plans were discussed for the coming year with particular emphasis given to the 40th anniversary year, 1960, when the Past President's Assembly of the Marion Lecture Recital Club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. H. T. Williams, 1036 Wilson Ave. Dinner preceded the meeting.

All past presidents of the organization now living in other cities are invited to join the group and assist in the forthcoming celebration.

Officers of the Assembly are Mrs. Williams, president, and Mrs. George Griffiths, secretary.

Program study was on "The Instruments in the Home" when the Junior Composers Club met Saturday afternoon at the home of the counselor, Mrs. H. T. Williams, at 1096 Wilson Ave. All types of organs, pianos and string instruments were discussed during the program.

Marilyn Tarvin presided and led the group in the junior collect to open the meeting. Marie Ann Fett served as treasurer for the day.

Piano selecions for the program were as follows. "Sonatina," Kuhlau, by Gary Flach; "Le Tambourin," Rameau, by Marsha Beidler; "Merry Go Round" by Stephanie Weiser, "The Shooting Stars" by Patty Griffith; "Brass Buttons" by Tom Gallup; "Winter Wonderland" by Steven Shults, and "Viennese Melody" by Judith Conkle.

Serving on the hospitality committee were Diana and Patty Ritterspach, Karen Schuler and Ann Algie. They were assisted by Mrs. R. A. Schuler and Mrs. R. H. Algie.

The next meeting will be March 21 with Tom Gallup, Steven Shults and Barbara Carpenter on the hospitality committee.

Mrs. H. E. Greenbaum and Mrs. Vernon Merriman were welcomed as new members when the Ohio State Mothers' Club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Gene Slagle, 445 S. Vine S. Mrs. D. D. Myers was a guest.

Plans were made for the members to participate in a state meeting on Saturday, Feb. 21, at Pomerene Hall on the Columbus campus. It also was decided to offer assistance to the Ohio State Alumni Association for future social affairs planned for students attending the Marion Branch.

The next meeting will be Thursday, March 19, at the home of Mrs. John Shambaugh, 261 Bradford St., with Mrs. Ralph Williams assisting.

—:—

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Winslow of San Bernardino, Calif., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kern of Big Island. They were called here by the illness of Mrs. Winslow's sister, Mrs. Frances Irvine of Marion, who is a patient in Marion General Hospital. Mr. Winslow is the son of Mrs. Lewis Winslow of LaRue, who presently is visiting at San Antonio, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ward of Mount Vernon, were guests of honor at a party held Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chappell in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Thirty guests were present and a basket-dinner was served at noon. Mrs. Ward is the former Donna Chappell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chappell of 379 E. Fairground St.

When the Twa Jeudi Club met in the home of Mrs. Gary McAfee on E. Church St. Thursday evening the members were joined by 10 guests and saw two films on cancer shown by Mrs. Betty Kimball. Plans for a rummage sale March 14 were discussed. Mystery gift was won by Miss Helen Weston. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Donald McGraw on N. State St.

Roll call was on "Interesting Events Heard on Television" when the Salt Rock JM Club met Thursday afternoon. Mrs. M. J. Kannel was hostess in her home west of Marion. Business was conducted by Mrs. Dale Rhoads. Mrs. Howard Conley was in charge of devotions, Mrs. Aubert Smith read an article on health and Mrs. Rhoads read an Edgar Guest poem. Social hour was under direction of Mrs. Oscar Murphy and awards in contests conducted by Mrs. Larry Sims were won by Mrs. Emerson Owen and Mrs. Roy Peters. Christine, Stephen and Jeffery Conley were guests. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Harold Garver on Harding Way west.

Lodge Activities

A 40-year membership pin was presented to Mrs. Charlotte Hosler by the president, Mrs. Helen Bonecutter, when Eclipse Favorits Lodge 40 Ladies Society of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, met Wednesday afternoon in the IOOF hall.

A donation of $5 was made to the sponsors of the school safety patrol program. Plans were made for floor work in which the members will participate at the state meeting in Newark in May.

During the social hour, refreshments were served by Mrs. Viola Kelly and Mrs. Mary Kunkler. Tables were decorated in keeping with Washington's birthday. The next meeting will be March 4.

Mrs. Louisa Watson of 487 Park St., a member of Cooper Corps 194, Women's Relief Corps, for nearly 42 years, has been appointed a national aide for the National Department of the Women's Relief Corps.

She will serve at the national convention to be held in June in Columbus and also at the department convention in the fall.

Making the appointment was the national president, Elizabeth Jeans. As national aide, Mrs. Watson will help to promote membership both in the local Corps and also in the department organization.

Mrs. Watson served as president of Cooper Corps last year, has been senior vice president and junior vice president several times, has served as treasurer and also was color bearer of the Corps for 17 years.

Donations of $10 to the Magnetic Springs Foundation and $5 to the "Yanks Who Gave" fund were voted by the auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, Monday night at the Legion Home.

Opening praper was by Mrs. Jane Crissinger and pledge of allegiance was led by Miss Opal McMahan. Miss Marie Baker was acting secretary. Reports were given by Mrs. Robert Brown on five members taking the trip to the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital Thursday to help entertain the patients. Cakes donated by other members were taken. In addition she read a rehabilitation report that won national citation.

Miss Baker will be in charge of the next program and a speaker on safety will be heard. Members of Unit 584 will be guests. Mrs. Eugene Pletcher was appointed to check possibilities of a bake sale as a fund raising project. It was announced that several members plan to attend the District 6 mid-winter conference in Columbus beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday. Mrs. Garold Benge reported for the color guard that the group requires two more members to reach marching strength this year and that work is being done on new uniforms. During social hour Mrs. Norval Foreman served.

Annual Style Show Slated By Junior Hospital Board

The annual luncheon and style show of the Junior Woman's Hospital Board will be held Thursday, March 5, at the Marion Country Club.

A highlight of this year's affair, which will begin at noon, will be a hair styling presentation by an out-of-town artist.

Committees which have been appointed for the event are making final preparations under the direction of Mrs. Warren Rowley and Mrs. Howard Diehl, the general co-chairmen. Proceeds realized through the luncheon are used by the board in furthering its work in the hospital.

COMMENTATOR for the style show in which board members will serve as models will be Mrs. Jackie Ellis of Columbus, well known to TV viewers in this area for her work in presenting the commercials on the Chet Long Show over WBNS-TV.

A former model, Jackie was engaged in modeling and fashion work in St. Louis, Baltimore, Washington, D.C., and in New York with the Conover Agency. This part of her career was launched in 1944.

She received her start in television while with the Conover Agency by doing local New York commercials and through bit appearances on a few network daytime shows such as "Look Your Best" on CBS. She acted as hostess on one of the first "late late" shows with WPIX-TV in New York and also did commercials on WTTV-TV in Newark, N.J., and WOR-TV in New York.

A year after moving to Columbus in 1951 she again entered the television field. Her first stint was on a Sunday panel show over WTVN-TV with Ben Hayes of the Columbus Ci. en as moderator. The show, called "Words a'Poppin," was written by George Hope, a brother of Bob Hope.

Jackie auditioned for the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. six years ago and has been associated with Chet Long in television for that length of time. Her husband is William Ellis and they have two children, a 12-year-old son and a seven-year-old daughter.

GUEST ARTIST for the hair styling show will be Joseph A. Florio, reputed to be one of the top hair stylists in the country. He attended the M. Louis Institute of Hair Designing in New York and studied under the supervision of Mr. Louis, one of the finest teachers in the country in his field. Mr. Florio also took advanced training at the Ecole de Technique in

Mrs. Jackie Ellis

Paris, France. After working in leading department stores and resort hotels around the country, he opened his own salon.

Mr. Florio has won numerous trophies while participating in international and national haircutting and styling contests. He is recognized throughout the country also as a lecturer and teacher.

In his appearance here, he will create hair fashions for the coming spring and summer seasons.

A number of local stores will cooperate in the fashion show for the event by providing the fashions for review.

Committees for the affair include the following: finance chairman, Miss Louise Guthery ;tickets, Mrs. William Isaly and Mrs. David Isaly, co-chairmen, Mrs. Richard Brandt, Mrs. Maurice Cornell, Mrs John Courtright, Mrs. Rodney Cox, Mrs. Robert Bagley, Miss Louise Guthery, Mrs. Donald Schlientz, Mrs. William Shawhan and Mrs. Robert Sullivan; staging, Mrs. William Black and Miss Ann Mapes, co-chairmen, Mrs. Phillip Boyd, Mrs. Paul Kohler, Mrs. Clovis Altmaier, Mrs. Don Yoder, Mrs. Carl Sheehe, Mrs. Robert Kraner and Mrs. John Schaffner; decorations, Mrs. Clare Williams, chairman, Mrs. John Pritchard, Mrs. Marion McDaniel, Mrs. Harry Lazear, Mrs. Marion Burton, and Mrs. Dan LaMarche Jr.; models, Mrs. Joseph Casey and Mrs. T. E. Sonnanstine, co-chairmen; stores, Mrs. Albert Mogg, Mrs. Ralph Howard and Mrs. William Leffler; food, Mrs. George Howser and Mrs. James C. Woods Jr., co-chairmen, Mrs. John Waddell and Mrs. A. E. Morrison, and commentary and publicity, Mrs. Joseph Yannitell.

Clubwomen Plan District Meeting

Several members of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs are expected to attend the sessions of Legislation Day, District Six, Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held on Friday, March 6, in Loudonville.

The Loudonville Progress Club will be the hostess group and activities will take place in the Zion Lutheran Church on E. Main St. in that city.

Registration will begin at 8:45 and the call to order is scheduled for 9:15. In the morning session, discussion will be held on "The Motor Scooter Law" by Sgt. James Wilson of the Wooster Police Force and R. Brooks Alloway, a Columbus attorney, and on "Public Utilities" by William E. Hamaker, a Canton attorney, and Russell W. Frey, publisher of the Rittman Press.

After lunch a sewing contest will be directed by Mrs. Charles Cisco, district art chairman. Music will follow by Loudonville school music pupils.

Discussions will be held in the afternoon on "Daylight Savings Time" by Carl Arnold of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., and M. L. Rickley, former Farm Bureau supervisor, and on "Supplemental Unemployment Benefits" by N. A. George, vice president of public relations for the Ohio Boxboard Co. at Rittman, and James V. Mazarra, industrial engineer for United Steel Workers of America, Canton. Adjourment is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Boat Encounters Tough Sailing in Dry Land Trip

STONEHAM, Mass. (AP) — The unscheduled "launching" of a 24-foot boat damaged two automobiles and sent a motorist to the hospital.

When Ulric G. LaChapelle Jr., 32, lost control of his car, it bounced off a utility pole, shot into a driveway and plowed into a cradle-trailer on which the boat was being built.

ARAB CLOTHING

NEW YORK (AP) — Numerous Lutheran women's groups prepared 7,200 garments for boys and girls. The clothing was shipped to Arab refugee children under auspices of Lutheran World Relief.

Mrs. Phillip Gustin was hostess in her home on N. Main St. Thurday night. Devotions were by Mrs. J. A. Ballard and Mrs. J. F. Condron offered prayer. Reports were given by Mrs. William Gorsuch and Mrs. Marie Highland. Prayer was by Mrs. Ruth Monahan. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Argyle Gilbert and Mrs. Charles Cramer. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Alice Philippi.

Miss Miriam Persinger Is Married to Al Steiner

In St. Joseph Catholic Church in LaRue on Saturday, Feb. 7, Miss Miriam Persinger became the bride of Al Steiner. The ceremony was read at 11 o'clock in the morning by the Rev. Colby Grimes, assistant pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church in Marion.

Baskets of white mums decorated the altar and marking the pews were lighted candles decorated with greenery and white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Persinger of 564 Delaware Ave. and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Steiner of Drexel Ave., both in Marion.

Given in marriage by her brother, William Persinger, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The basque bodice had a wing collar of lace and at either side of the hooped skirt of nylon tulle was a panel of scalloped Chantilly lace. A crown of pearls and iridescents held her veil and a gold cross, a gift from the bridegroom, was her jewelry. She carried a white Bible topped with red rosebuds and showered with white streamers.

Mrs. Geneva Manring of Iberia attended the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Persinger and Mrs. Barbara Morgan, both of Marion. They are sisters of the bride.

They wore red velvet dresses and headbands of white fur and carried bouquets of calla lilies tied with white ribbon streamers.

Suzie Persinger and Debbie Manring, nieces of the bride, were flower girls and wore white lace dresses with red velvet headbands. They carried baskets of red rose petals. Ringbearer was Roy Dale Persinger, nephew of the bride.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Paul Steiner Jr. of Marion, and ushers were Herbert Mulvaine and Maynard Mulvaine.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Persinger chose a blue silk print dress with which she combined dark blue accessories. Mrs. Steiner was attired in a blue suit with matching accessories. Each had a corsage of white carnations and red rosebuds.

Mrs. Al Steiner

A reception followed in the community rooms over the West Town Branch of the National City Bank. When te couple left later on a wedding trip to Pennsylvania and West Virginia, Mrs. Steiner was wearing an olive green wool jersey sheath dress with black accessories and gold jewelry.

Mrs. Steiner was graduated from Harding High School with the class of 1957 and her husband was graduated from Pleasant High School in 1957. He is employed at the IGA Foodliner. They are making their home in Marion.

Guests from out of town at the wedding were from Michigan, Iberia and New Bloomington.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I've been married 14 years to a fine man. We have three children and another one on the way.

Five years ago I became involved with a man I'll call Fred. He was a bachelor in our social set and terribly attractive.

We saw each other almost every day for a year. My husband knew nothing of this. There was never a breath of gossip. Fred kept nagging me to get a divorce but I couldn't bring myself to do it.

The sneaking around and lying was making me so nervous I finally told Fred we'd have to end the affair. He put up an awful battle but finally he left town. I felt as if a 2-ton weight had been taken off my head.

Last week Fred called on the phone. I almost collapsed at the sound of his voice after four years. He asked if anyone was at home. Like a fool I said "no." He came right over.

His appearance shocked me. He looked like a Skid Row bum. His clothes were shabby and he'd been drinking. (He always drank too much, but I'd never thought of him as an alcoholic.) He said he wanted me to see what I'd done to him.

He said if I'd start to see him again he could regain his old self-respect. I feel like a criminal. I want to help him but I don't want him anywhere near me or my family.

He's calling me in a week for my answer. How much do I owe this man?—FOOLISH ONCE.

Dear Foolish Once: You owe this man two things—a vote of thanks for leaving you alone, and a standing invitation to stay away from you permanently.

Don't let him play on your sympathy and lay his self-destruction on your doorstep. His own weak will plus the booze put the skids under him. Tell him so on the phone when he calls for your answer. Wish him luck and a pleasant and speedy journey.

'Goofed,' but Good!

Dear Ann Landers: Get out the wet noodle. This time you goofed but good.

In your column recently you said, "The greatest Teacher of all said we should forgive 7 times 700."

It didn't sound right to me, so I looked it up. In Matthew, chapter 18, verses 21 and 22, it says, "Then Peter came to Him and said, 'Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him, till seven times?' But the Lord said, "I say not unto thee, until seven times: But, until 70 times seven!' "

I think 70 times 7 lashes with that wet noodle would be fitting punishment for this error—HAWK-EYE.

Dear Hawk: You are right and I hang my head in shame for not knowing my Matthew better. (He is my favorite disciple.) I think, however, that 490 lashes is pretty stiff punishment for adding a zero (which is really nothing). May we settle for just 77?

Brains AWOL

Dear Ann Landers? Will be in high school next year but I look older. I like a boy who is in the Army. We've been writing to each other for six months. He's coming home on leave and wants to take me out.

My mother says I can't go. In fact, she won't even discuss it. She just says, "Shut up and don't talk such nonsense."

All I want is permission to go to a movie with him. When I asked her for a stamp to mail this letter she said, "I'll give you a stamp if you tell Ann Landers your age." So now I am telling you. I am 13. Thank you.—GERALDINE.

Dear Geraldine: Uncle Sam needs men. You don't. Your mother is right. Instead of just telling you to "shut up" I think Mother should explain why it would be unwise for you to date at this early age.

A girl at 13 is not emotionally equipped to handle boy-girl relationships with judgment. Thirteen is too young to interpret your own feelings and see things in the proper perspective. Save dating for high school.

And about that boy friend who is in the Army. His brains must be AWOL.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Willys, Brazil Affiliate Will Produce Renault

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Willys Motors, Inc. and a Brazilian affiliate have signed an agreement with a French automobile manufacturer for production of the Renault Dauphine passenger car in Brazil, Willys announced today.

The agreement involves Willys Motors, Inc., Willys-Overland do Brasil and Regie Nationale des Usines Renault.

S. A. Girard, vice-president and general manager of Willys Motors, said Willys and Renault will jointly invest $11,968,000 in machinery and equipment in Willys-Overland do Brasil.

Dauphine cars will be produced in a Willys plant near Sao Paulo.

By the end of 1960, officials expect to be producing Dauphines at an annual rate of 50,000 units, Girard said.

Church Activities

The Waldo St. Paul Luther League met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Kaelber Sunday with Richard and Shirley Kaelber as host and hostess. The meeting opened with group singing. Shirley Kaelber read scripture and the topic, "A Meaningful Lent," was given by Richard Kaelber.

The Senior Catechism Class was welcomed to the meeting by the Rev. Theodore Wendt. Jim Ward and Douglas Denzer were chosen to attend the stewardship training conference in Bucyrus this weekend. Leroy Swartz was welcomed as a new member.

The Rev. Mr. Wendt introduced Willard Sandbrink who showed movies on the growth of the Lutheran Church. The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. In the social hour games were played and refreshments served. The next meeting will be March 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lichtenberger with Linda Lichtenberger as hostess.

For a meeting of the Greenwood EUB Disciples Class Thursday night at the church a Bible quiz was led by Eddie Baer. To open the meeting the teacher, Stanley Thomas, read Scripture and Mrs. R. E. Williman offered prayer. Members decided to conclude the penny contest March 1. Prayer was by Karen Jennings and following the quiz refreshments were served by Mrs. Williman with prayer given by the pastor, the Rev. Robert Williman.

The Boys and Girls Fellowship of the Rural Salem EUB Church met Sunday morning in the basement following the Sunday School hour. Mrs. Paul Zimmerman their leader was in charge. Slides were shown. A group picture was taken for a new project.

At the 7:30 p.m. service the slides "Robert of Ybor City" were shown to the adult group in the sanctuary. Preceding the presentation of the pictures the pastor, the Rev. Paul Zimmerman, gave the evening message on the subject, "Are You in the Portrait?"

Theme for a meeting of the Emanuel Lutheran Women's Missionary Society Thursday afternoon was "I Know Whom I Believe In" with Mrs. W. A. Dorsey in charge. The program was held in the church parlors. Committee reports were heard. Mrs. George Turner announced that the family of Mrs. Eva Waieske, a member who died recently, made a gift contribution to the society of $231.

Scripture from Ephesians was given by Mrs. Lloyd Rehl. Mrs. Morton Olson presented Bible study on "The Possessed Christ" and a playlet, "Roses in December," was put on by Mrs. Otto Ricker and Mrs. Harry Atkinson. World Day of Prayer service was conducted by Mrs. Turner with "The Church - Possessed Life" as the theme. A shower of canned goods will be brought to the next meeting for the Marion Union Rescue Mission. Guests were Mrs. Esther Burgess and Mrs. R. E. Knauf and daughter, Patsy. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Leo Balsley, Mrs. William Boger, Mrs. J. H. Bolinger, Mrs. Robert Baughman, Mrs. W. C. Boyd and Mrs. A. M. Bufford.

Dessert luncheon was served by Mrs. C. R. Clevenger, Mrs. Marie Heffelfinger and Mrs. J. A. Huber when the Epworth Methodist Isabella Thoburn Circle met Thursday afternoon in the Clevenger home at 738 S. Prospect St. Mrs. D. O. Hubbard was a guest.

To open the meeting Mrs. J. P. Eichhorn read a poem, "Life's Tapestry," and devotions were by Mrs. Homer Waddell who read part of Psalm 5 and gave thoughts on prayer. Group praying of the Lord's Prayer followed.

Mrs. Roy Holdridge continued presentation of the study on "World - wide Illiteracy" followed by group discussion. Members were asked by Mrs. W. Earl Thomas to loan or give devotional books for the bookshelf. Report was given of 62 calls made and nine cards sent to the ill during the last month. The next meeting will be held at the church.

To Your Good Health

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Urinalysis Provides Much Information

Today's letter raises some questions which I think deserve answers, because few people seem to know what wonderful organs the kidneys are — or what simple things help them, if needed.

Dr. Molner

"Dear Dr. Molner: Some time ago my doctor suggested a test of urine. He said I had albumin but didn't explain, or give me anything for it, as he already had given me medicine for some pains in my legs. Can you tell me what albumin in the urine means — Mrs. H.M."

Urinalysis provides much information. Specific gravity is a clue to general kidney function; presence of sugar may indicate diabetes. Presence of albumin has several meanings.

About 6 per cent of all people will show this at times. Causes? Various.

If infection is present, albumin will show, too, because it will be present in the pus in the urine.

VIOLENT exercise, as after a football of basketball game, will cause albumin to appear in many individuals. It readily disappears again, and is quite normal.

Then there is a condition called orthostatic albuminuria — albumin is not present when the person is at rest but when he stands up or is active, it appears. This is not a serious situation, but it is frequent enough so it must not be ruled out as a possible cause.

But persistent presence of albumin implies some kidney problem such as Bright's Disease. You might keep that word "persistent" in mind if your doctor requires the same test to be repeated. Often it is important to know whether a certain finding (like albumin) is persistent or merely occasional.

Albumin also appears in nephrosis, certain kidney complications of diabetes, in association with high blood pressure, and in arteriosclerosis — that is, hardening of the arteries, when it involves the kidneys.

AS TO treatment, in which Mrs. M. is interested, naturally this depends on the cause. Obviously if infection is the cause, the thing to do is clear up the infection.

If it is merely incidental albumin of a natural nature, you pay little heed.

If the case resolves itself into one or another kind of kidney disease, and the presence of albumin is extensive, a low-protein diet may be in order, as this spares the kidneys to some extent.

But if only moderate amounts of albumin appear, no particular diet or treatment is necessary. Ample rest, wholesome diet, avoidance of infection (as colds), will take some of the strain off the kidneys.

THE KIDNEYS have remarkable power to continue functioning in the face of disease, and lightening of the stress on them will help, which is the big general truth that I want to emphasize. As with a good many other organs, medicines or "cures" are not as important or useful as learning how to ease the load on the organ and let it restore itself.

—:—

"Dear Dr. Molner: Could a woman who has an unusually hard delivery at childbirth get a heart condition as a result? I have symptoms of angina, yet nothing shows up on the cardiogram. —S.B."

No. You may have angina, but it is independent of the pregnancy complications

"Dear Dr. Molner: Does chronic cervicitis necessarily call for an operation?—Mrs. M.H."

The trouble is usually infection in small glands of the cervix; hence local treatment may not reach the trouble. Usually cauterization clears this up the best.

Count your calories the easy way! To receive a copy of my pamphlet, "The Calorie Chart," write me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Price of Land Continues Rise, Report Shows

Comparison Is Made Of Per-Acre Income, Costs Since 1910 Era

Statistics compiled by the USDA show that farm income per acre, after a brief sojourn alongside land costs per acre, has started to regain the advantage.

In fact, by the end of 1958, income had reached about $11 per acre, after a low since 1950 of $10, the figure reached in 1957. The average cost of land, however, was just under $110 an acre.

Back in 1910, a USDA graph shows, land was selling for about $40 an acre and farmers were realizing about $4 in return for each acre operated.

For a space, roughly from 1910 to 1916, both land and income figures showed little inclination to rise. In 1917, however, as World War I brought on a demand for foodstuffs to feed the Allied armies, income per acre shot, almost overnight, from about $5 to $9. Land costs rose to about $50 an acre.

Income Scale Rises

In 1918 the income scale was still on the rise, hitting a peak of approximately $9.50 an acre in 1919. The cost of land was up to $65.

Then came the end of the war and the decline of both income and land costs, with income taking the big plunge. Between 1919 and 1921, income-per-acre sank from the high of $9.50 to about $3.50 an acre. But, land prices fell to only about $50.

However, income per acre began, the report shows, an immediate rise, while land prices continued on the downward grade. By 1925, average income per acre had gotten back to $7, while land prices, still going down, had hit the $45 mark.

At this point the cards marked with the depression of the 1930's were being dealt the nation.

Both the price of land an income per acre figures dropped like a plummet between 1925 and 1931, with land values leveling off at about $30 an acre in 1932 and income per acre hitting the modern era low of $2.

King-Sized Problem

For the next eight years, land prices were stabilized at about $30 an acre, while income rose to $5, then $6, then dropped to a two-year level of $4. The farmer was having, without question, a "tough row to hoe."

But war, in the offing in 1940, materialized in 1941 for the U.S., and land values and income per acre began a stratospheric climb.

It stopped for income per acre when the figure $15.50 was reached in 1948. Land values, still rising, stood at $60 at that point. Income then registered a drop back to $11.50 in 1949, got back to $14 in 1951, then commenced a decline that hit the $10 mark in the aforementioned 1958.

But, land values were still on the rise in 1958, as costs in all farming operations raced ahead of income.

Farm land costs have been on the rise since 1940 at a more or less steady rate. Income, though, has suffered two big drops. It remains to be seen how high land prices will go in the face of fluctuating per-acre incomes.

FFA Week Is Being Noted Nationally

Swisher's Program Typifies Those In County

This is FFA Week across the nation and, as such, the emphasis is once again on the activities of FFA youth and the many projects in which they indulge.

The Future Farmers of America movement got started back in 1928, and there have been eight chapters in Marion County virtually from the outset. Today, those chapters, located at the Green Camp, Prospect, Pleasant, LaRue, Ridgedale (formerly Morral - Meeker), Caledonia, Claridon and Waldo schools, represent the membership of approximately 225 youths. New Bloomington's FFA'ers avail themselves of the facilities at Green Camp.

Said to typify the many fine projects undertaken in the county is the diversified one carried on by Terry Swisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Swisher, who farms 280 acres in Scott Township.

TERRY IS A senior this year and, according to James Scisson, Caledonia vocational agriculture teacher and director of FFA work, "riding high" on an agriculture program that began four years ago.

As a freshman, in which grade FFA work is begun, Terry had a few sheep, some wheat and soybeans as projects. Hogs came into the picture in his sophomore year, but it was as a junior that he really began to exert himself in the Future Farmers program.

In 1958 he could lay claim to 12 head of Corriedale ewes, two sows, some oats, wheat and hay. And, he represented the county as a state convention delegate. Young Swisher was a member of the sheep and wool judging team in 1956 through 1958 representing the state, and made the dairy team last year. In 1957 he worked with the poultry judges.

As is the case with most ambitious FFA'ers, Terry has not confined all his activities to those farm-connected.

ABLE REPRESENTATIVE of the FFA youth in Marion County is Terry Swisher, a member of the Caledonia chapter, shown here with one of his purebred Corriedale ewes. Terry, a senior this year, has held several state offices and this year aspires for recognition as an FFA State Farmer. Sheep are primary in young Swisher's diversified program.

HE WAS A member of the Scot grid and hardcourt squads all four years, played baseball three years, sang in the Marion County Chorus for three years and played in the county band as a freshman and sophomore.

He looks back, too, on seven years of 4-H work, during which time he held every office and served as a group leader.

In short, Terry has made the most of his opportunities to take part in FFA work. He hopes, upon graduation, to attend Ohio State University for a year or two, and eventually to farm.

There are, according to Mr. Scisson, some 12,500 FFA'ers in Ohio alone.

The organization got its start back in 1917, when courses in vocational agriculture were offered under the National Vocational Education Act. It was between 1923 and 1928 that some states actually formed organizations of these students, among which was Ohio.

FAMILIAR TO everyone today is the FFA emblem, which is made up of five symbols: the owl, the plow, and the rising sun, within the cross section of an ear of corn, with the whole surmounted by the American eagle.

The owl is symbolic of wisdom and knowledge, the plow of labor and tillage of the soil, the rising sun of progress and the new day anticipated when farmers trained, are aware of the benefits of cooperation, and the cross section of an ear of corn representing common agricultural interests. The eagle is indicative of the national scope of the organization.

Governing all FFA members is the motto: "Learning to do. Doing to learn. Earning to live. Living to serve."

Year's Statistics Noted

Report on Conservation Shows Progress in 1958

Without question, there were soil and water conservation accomplishments galore in 1958.

That's an assertion made by Donald A. Williams, administrator of the soil conservation service, in his report on the department's fiscal year to the secretary of agriculture.

A glance at some of the statistics quoted by Mr. Williams lends support to his declaration.

IN 1958, for example, more than 116,000 farmers and ranchers in the U. S. became cooperators with soil conservation districts. This number boosted to 1,794,411 the number of cooperators in the nation's 2,791 districts now in operation.

There were soil surveys made on 41 million acres last year with an additional 12 million acres of range surveyed. And, basic soil and water conservation plans were made on a whopping 345 million acres, which represented no less than 1,218,433 farms and ranches.

A total of 160 small watersheds, with approved work plans, were ready to start or already started by fiscal 1958's end. What's more, farmers and ranchers signing the first contracts under the Great Plains Conservation Program, provided for the improving of stubble mulch farming on upwards of 3 million acres.

FIGURES showing the breakdown of practices and the acres involved make impressive reading.

Note the following: contour farming, 2,296,854 acres; stripcropping, 768,881 acres; terracing 40,986 miles; cover cropping 4,144,611 acres; pasture planting, 2,983,566 acres; irrigation land leveling, 460,066; wildlife area improvement, 488,568; and stubble mulching, 3,180,221. In addition, 63,060 farm ponds were constructed.

Indeed, conservation progress in 1958 was tremendous. And, Mr. Williams suggests, accomplishments this year are expected to be no less impressive.

Upper Sanduskian To Get 4-H Award

Miss Frieda Ulrich of Upper Sandusky in Wyandot County, will be one of 950 Ohio 4-H Club advers to receive service awards at the annual recognition banquet March 26 on the Ohio State University campus.

Miss Ulrich will be recognized for 30 years in the capacity of club adviser.

The fete is slated for the OSU Union as a special feature of Farm and Home Week, with advisers having 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 and 35 years the special guests.

Sponsoring the banquet is the Sears Roebuck Foundation, with the pins to be awarded by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio.

Miss Frieda Ulrich is one of more than 9,800 4-H advisers in the Buckeye state. Last year they administered to some 81,811 club members.

Mrs. Lowell Douce of Caledonia will receive a 15-year pin, while Mrs. Oscar Kaelber of Waldo, Mrs. Paul Spires of Meeker, and Mrs. Robert James of Big Island will get 10-year awards. Five-year recognitions will go to Mrs. Lust of Pleasant, Mrs. Quentin Hinamon of Morral, Mrs. Eugena Miller of the Grand Prairie community, and Mrs. Clyde Forry of Morral.

Wool Directorship Goes to D. E. Wolfe

Donald E. Wolfe of near Upper Sandusky, was elected to the board of directors of the Ohio Wool Growers Association at the 42nd annual meeting of the group in Columbus.

He will represent wool producers in district No. 5, consisting of Crawford and Wyandot counties for a three-year term. He succeeds the late Robert E. Sweigard of Upper Sandusky.

Mr. Wolfe is in charge of the Upper Sandusky market of the Producers Livestock Association. Mrs. Wolfe is secretary of the Ohio Corriedale Club.

Delegates named to represent the district from Crawford County were: Robert Utz, New Washington; Paul Cahill, Tiro; Harry Quaintance, near Marion; and Elmer Scheff, near Bucyrus. To represent Wyandot will be: Raymond Harter, Sycamore; Orrin Lust, McCutchenville; Robert Clinger, David Needs Jr., Edwin McClain and Virgil Althouse, all of the Upper Sandusky community; and Robert D. Case of Nevada.

SERIOUS ABOUT SAFETY

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — Mark Gamble's enthusiasm for his job knows no bounds. He's a member of the student safety patrol at Emmett Belknap School here, and was discovered at a downtown intersection recently, arms spread to prevent pedestrians from crossing before the light changed.

Shorthorn Is Acclaimed in Special 'Week'

Breed's Start Traced To England's Durham County Around 1900

This is, among other things, Ohio Shorthorn Week.

In fact, it's the fourth such annual event and it is being observed by a veritable multitude of events all over the Buckeye state, with the grand climax to be a Mid-Winter Beef Cattle Roundup Saturday in the new arts and crafts building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

The event will feature a statewide 4-H and FFA Shorthorn judging contest at 10 a.m., followed by a beef barbecue at noon. L. E. Kunkle of the OSU meats department will talk during the afternoon program and an analysis of the beef cattle outlook will be given by he secretary of the National Shorthorn Association.

What about these Shorthorn cattle? From whence came they and how long have they been one of the world's primary beef breeds?

History records that Shorthorns, as a recognized breed, originated somewhere around 1600 in the Tees River Valley of northern England, county of Durham.

Prefix Durham

Thus it was that, for a time, the name "Shorthorn" was prefixed by he word "Durham," as a tribute to the Durham County farmers who played the big role in bringing Shorthorns to prominence.

Shorthorns, then, as now, were readily recognizable by their color—red, white or a mixture of the two commonly known as roan.

It remained for the breeders in Scotland to make what has been considered the most valuable contributions to the breed. The Scots got their first Shorthorn cattle about 1730 and forthwith brought about some changes. Whereas the English had utilized these cattle for the dual purpose of meat and milk, Scotch breeders began working for perfection of Shorthorn beef conformation.

So successful were he Scotsmen that Shorthorn cattle were to be known as either "English" or "Scotch" Shorthorns.

It was the English variety that led the movement of the breed to America, with the first ones arriving in Virginia in 1783. It was not until 1854 that breeders in this country imported the rugged Scotch breed and began to concentrate on beef production.

Like the young men who followed Horace Greeley's advice to "go west," Shorthorn cattle did likewise, many of them furnishing power for both wagons and plows.

First Herd Book

By 1846, the first American Herd Book was published and in 1882 the American Shorthorn Breeders Association was organized.

As the Scotsmen foresaw the advantages of breeding for beef conformation, so American breeders noted the advantage of a Shorthorn without horns. Subsequently, the Polled Shorthorn was developed, originating in the midwest in the 1870's.

The new breed came about almost by accident. It was observed that naturally hornless cattle apparently carried a dominant characteristic that enabled them to produce hornless calves when bred to either horned or polled cattle.

So popular were the polled cattle that today, according to the American Shorthorn Association, polls make up a bit over one-fourth of the annual registrations of the association.

Considered the largest of all beef cattle, Shorthorns are said to outnumber the cattle of any other breed.

The exploits of Shorthorns were emphasized again in 1956 when PS Troubadour, bred by Cyrus Eaton on his Acadia Farms in Northfield, O., was adjudged the grand champion steer at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago, selling at a record price of $20,397.50, or a record on-the-hoof price of $20.50 per pound.

So hail the Shorthorn, for this is his week for recognition.

R. H. TERHUNE
Will Speak at Banquet

Livestockmen Slated to Hear R. H. Terhune

The annual Marion County Livestock Feeders meeting and banquet has been scheduled for March 3 at 7 p.m. in the Prospect School, according to Ellwood Parrott, county extension director.

Guest speaker will be Robert Terhune, newly appointed Ohio director of agriculture.

A special feature of the event will be the expected attendance of all the buyers at the 1958 Marion County Livestock Show and Sale. Mr. Parrott says an invitation has been extended these individuals "as a token of our appreciation for their support of the sale."

Mr. Terhune, a native of Indiana, is an alumnus of Ohio State University, having earned a BS degree in education in 1933. While at OSU he was the university's heavyweight boxing champion, a member of the Scarlet and Gray grid team and put the shot with the thinclads.

He subsequently took a MS degree and is currently working on his Ph.D. in agronomy.

For some years he operated a 600-acre farm, later was in charge of on-the-farm training after World War II. He, his wife and three children now make their home in Washington C. H.

Hinaman Wins Barrow Titles At Swine Fete

Of all the exhibitors who entered swine in the Ohio Spring Barrow Show in London last weekend, none came away with any more proof of their ability as feeders than Jim Hinaman, son of Marion County's Robert Hinamans, prominent Berkshire breeders.

Jim enetered four barrows in the competition, but wound up up showing only three.

In the junior show he carried off a first and third in the singles event, showing against all breeds. In consequence, he took the grand championship ribbon. What's more, he had the champion pen of three.

In open competition, Jim's pen of three barrows wound up as grand champions and he showed the reserve grand champion single barrws.

All told, 444 barrows were entered, representing about 140 breeders. It was young Hinaman's first shot at the big Ohio show.

Crawford Soil District Notes 1958 Progress

BUCYRUS — Farmers and land owners cooperating with the Divide Soil Conservation District here made excellent progress in 1958 in solving soil and water management problems, Clifford Hoover, board chairman, reports this week in summarizing the board's 14th annual report.

In 1958, 69 additional farmers, operating 7,105 acres, became cooperators, bringing the total to 631 cooperators, representing more than one-third of the agricultural land in Crawford County. A cooperator is a farmer or landowner who has submitted to the board a written request for help in practicing conservation on his farm.

Fifty - four farm conservation plans were developed last year by cooperators with the assistance of U.S. Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to the district. The technicians, Robert Mills and Robert Weiss, assisted with the installation of conservation practices, Mr. Hoover points out.

Conservation practices completed during 1958 by cooperating farmers included: contour farming, 32 acres; cover cropping, 298 acres; waterways, 3.1 miles; farm drainage, 1,500 acres; tile drainage, 31,455 rod; open drainage ditch, 2.4 miles; terraces and diversions 7 tenths of a mile; pasture improvement, 52 acres; woodland improvement, 20 acres; woodland protection, 605 acres; woodland planting 15 acres; multiflora rose fence, 768 rod, wild life area improvement, 16 acres, and nine farm ponds constructed.

Morrow's PCA Moves; Hardin Unit Is Building

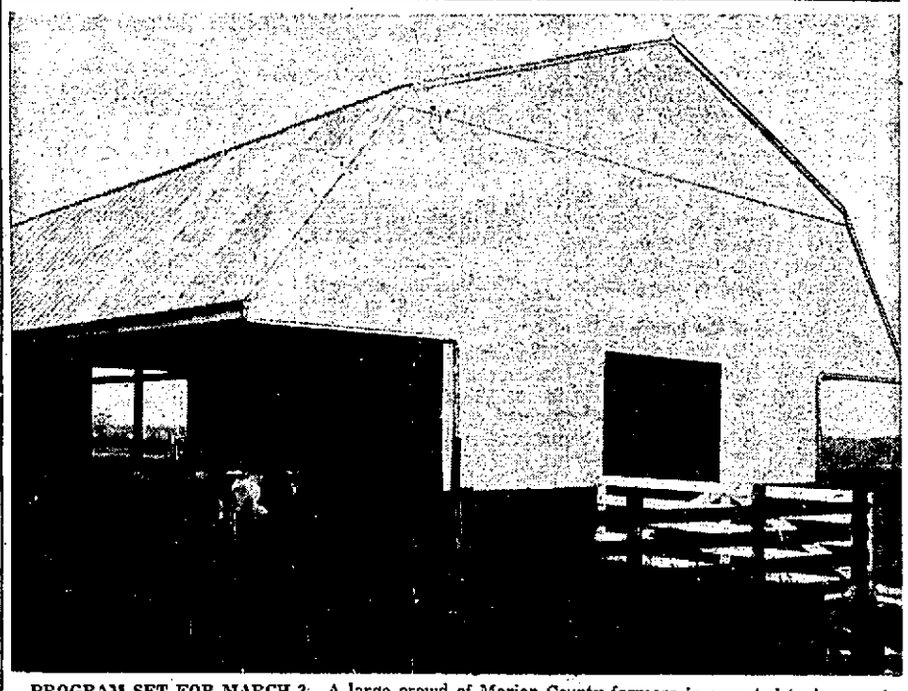
One Production Credit Association office in the Marion area has moved and another is in the process of getting a new home.

The PCA office in Morrow County's Mount Gilead has moved into spacious new quarters along State Rt. 95 just across from the Morrow County Hospital. An open house is planned Feb. 27 from 1-9 p.m., with the public invited.

Walter Furbay is manager of the Morrow office, presently in its 25th year of operation.

And, a contract has been let for a new PCA office in Hardin County. It will be situated along State Rt. 67 on Kenton's east side. James H. Jackson is manager of that affiliate of the Farm Credit Banks of Louisville.

Marion-Union Dairy Tour Slated



PROGRAM SET FOR MARCH 3. A large crowd of Marion County farmers is expected to journey to Union County Tuesday for an afternoon tour of several of Union's outstanding dairy farms. Farmers will leave at noon from either the LaRue School, the Waldo elevator, or the county extension office. Four stops will be made and Ellwood Parrott, county extension director, promises something worthwhile to see at each place.

UPPER: This is a view of a "herringbone" milking parlor on the Lowell Anderson farm. Mr. Anderson, shown, has the only unit of its type in operation in Union County. Six cows are handled on a side, standing angled left to right as indicated in the picture. Mr. Anderson voices complete satisfaction with these milking facilities and says he can milk his 60-cow herd in about an hour and a half.

LOWER: Mr. Anderson and his son designed this unique hay barn, which holds bales enough for 100 cows. It is 60x30 feet and accommodates about 35 cows to a side. In addition to these two features, farmers will see Harvestore silos being used, feed auguring setups and other labor-saving devices.

Wilbur Bruner Is To Talk at Gilt Club Fete

Guest speaker for Friday's 15th annual Pure Bred Gilt Recognition Luncheon in Hotel Harding will be Wilbur Bruner, extension specialist in animal science and marketing a Ohio State University.

The fete is sponsored by the Marion Chamber of Commerce's agriculture committee to honor those youths who took part in the Chamber's gilt program the preceding year.

Six boys took part in the 1958 event, including Bill Bates, Joe Clayton, Garry Forry, Richard Johnson, Donald Jerew and Jerry Orth.

Mr. Bruner, secured for the meeting by Jim Smoot and Lloyd Calhoun, is a native of Paulding County. He was reared on a farm in Fulton County, graduated from Delta High School in 1923 and earned a BS degree from Ohio State in 1927.

For a time, Mr. Bruner taught vocational agriculture at Fort Recovery and Montpelier in Ohio, but later, from 1936 to 1947, was Preble County extension director.

He served as secretary of the Ohio Wool Growers Association in 1947, '48 and '49, then became an extension swine marketing specialist at OSU, switching, subsequently, to the position he now holds as an extension specialist in animal science and marketing.

Mr. Bruner, who is in charge of activities at the Ohio Swine Evaluation Station, is expected to show pictures and talk of his experiences during a recent visit to Denmark and the Scandinavian countries to study swine management practices.

The speaker will be introduced by Mr. Calhoun. Roy Holdridge, chairman of the C. of C.'s agriculture group, will MC the program.

Invitations to attend the event have already been mailed, but Jack Lautenslager, assistant secretary of the Chamber, says anyone interested in attending the fete may contact him at the office to make reservations.

Logan County To Stage Hay Crops Institute

Marion County farmers may avail themselves of two forage crop institutes set for early March, according to Ellwood Parrott, county extension director.

One will be in Logan County's Bellefontaine March 5, with the other set for Auglaize County on the 6th.

The one at Bellefontaine, to be held in the Pine St. School just across from the fairgrounds on the city's south side, will get under way at 9:30 a.m. with coffee and doughtnuts and an inspection of exhibits.

At 10 a.m., George R. Gist, OSU extension agronomist, will discuss seeding methods for better forage stands, and at 10:45, Robert Holdsworth Jr., OSU extension entomologist, will talk on "More Hay Through Spittlebug Control."

J. D. Blickle, agricultural engineer from the university, will wind up the morning activities with a talk on "Handling Forage Crops — Field to Feed Bunk."

Following lunch at 11:45, C. D. McGrew, extension dairy specialist, will discuss cows and good forage. He'll be followed by James H. Warner, extension specialist in animal science, who will report on forage utilization by both beef cattle, sheep and swine.

Concluding the program will be a talk on "Economics of Forage Crop Productoin," by Lester Arnold, extension economist.

Says Mr. Parrott: "This is quite an array of speaking talent and area farmers would do well to attend this session who are interested in the topics to be discussed."

The program in Auglaize will follow a similar format.

CORN ON THE COB

Sweet corn production in Ohio in 1958 was the highest on record and 28 per cent above 1957, OSU statisticians note.

Report Shows January Herd Summary Data

A total of 491 Marion County cows produced 40 pounds or more of butterfat in January, according to a summary of the months activities, issued this week by the county extension office.

That number represented 139 individuals on Owner-Sampler test and 352 falling under Dairy Herd Improvement Association jurisdiction.

It was 133 head more than made the 40-pound or more mark for the corresponding period a year ago, according to the report.

There were 20 herds on owner-sampler test in January, represented by 317 cows. The 24 herds on DHIA test were comprised of 775 milkers.

The cows on owner-sampler test in January averaged 917 pounds of milk and 36 pounds of fat. Those on DHIA pailed an average of 950 pounds of milk and 37 pounds of fat, the report notes.

The high herd on owner-sampler produced an average of 1,287 pounds of milk per cow and 47 pounds of butterfat. For DHIA, the top herd put out 1,440 pounds of milk and 50 pounds of fat.

These figures, the report indicates, are based on both cows in milk and those dry in each herd.

Apparently the rackets surrounding juke boxes are as revolting as those that come out of them.

Jones To Confer With Betts on Farm Picture

Robert Jones, Prospect Township farmer, has been elected a spokesman for the 8th Congressional District, according to H. D. Heckathorn, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Mr. Jones is one of 20 farmers from this district who will go to Washington, D.C., March 16-18 to meet with Rep. Jackson E. Betts.

Purpose of the get-together will be to discuss issues of importance to Farm Bureau members in this area. Mr. Jones is president of the Marion County Farm Bureau Federation.

Hamilton Man Is New Cooperative President

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—James M. Lewis of Hamilton is the new president of the Farm Bureau Cooperative Assn. He succeeds W. N. Woods of Maumee, who has completed 10 years as head of the association.

Lewis was elected Tuesday during the group's annual meeting here. He is a dairy farmer and farm leader, and has served as vice president of the cooperative since 1955.

Carl Rufener of Suffield was elected vice president. Rufener has been on the board of directors since 1953, representing Portage, Columbiana, Mahoning and Stark counties.

Senate Democrats Harass Strauss on Cabinet Appointment

Nomination Protest Led By Kefauver

Ex-AEC Head Slated For Commerce Post Despite Partisan Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Democrats are building a protest bonfire under President Eisenhower's nomination of Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce.

Strauss, one of Washington's more controversial figures, appears likely to get eventual confirmation if only because the Senate seldom in modern times has rejected a cabinet appointment.

But Sens. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) and some other Democrats are expected to direct a hot fire against the former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission before the appointment is acted upon by the Senate Commerce Committee.

The committee postponed consideration of the nomination, scheduled today, after Kefauver asked for a delay pending a Justice Department report on Strauss' role in the Dixon-Yates controversy.

Atty. Gen. Rogers meanwhile made public a letter to Kefauver saying there is no such investigation pending.

Kefauver contended in a statement Tuesday that Strauss arranged for a presidential directive requiring the AEC to contract with the Dixon-Yates utilities combine to build a power plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply supplemental power to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The contract was canceled by presidential order after testimony before congressional committee showed Adolphe Wenzell, New York financier, served as an adviser both to the Budget Bureau and to the utilities interests.

day with just a short trip scheduled.

That trip: about 300 feet in a wheel chair from his room in Walter Reed Army Hospital to an X-ray room to receive radiation treatment for cancer.

President Eisenhower may visit his ailing secretary of state during the day and members of the Dulles family were sure to drop in.

But the kind of family celebration which has marked most of his birth anniversaries will be missing.

Dulles began the radiation treatments last Friday after a hernia operation a week earlier had shown a recurrence of cancer. The X-ray treatments will go on for another three weeks or so.

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said Tuesday "there are no signs of adverse reaction at this stage" to the increasingly heavy doses of X-ray which Dulles has been given.

Both Sides in Strike at Mill Get Warning

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP)—Gov. Luther Hodges has warned union and management officials they bear "direct and personal responsibility" to prevent further violence in the bitter Henderson-Harriet Cotton Mill strike.

Negotiators received strongly-worded telegrams from the Governor as they prepared to meet again today in an effort to end the 15-week dispute.

"The rising tensions and the continuance of....acts of violence constitute a threat to the maintenance of law and order which cannot be condoned," Hodges declared.

He referred to three bombings, stoning and car-tipping incidents, threats against several workers, and an attack on vice president of the Textile Workers Union of America. All have occurred since company President John D. Cooper Jr., reopened the plants Feb. 16.

The company's 1,200 workers voted to strike Nov. 17 when management insisted that a provision calling for arbitration in settling disputes be left out of a new contract. The provision had been in effect 14 years.

apparently stepped off the curb right into its path.

It was Cardington's first traffic fatality since the summer of 1957 when a motorist was killed when hit by a train. Mr. Kirk said it was the first auto-pedestrian fatality in recent years in the village.

Mr. Martin was taken to the hospital at Mount Gilead in a Curl Funeral Home ambulance.

Born in Morrow County

Mr. Martin was the son of Philip and Margaret Williams Martin. He was born in Lincoln Township, Morrow County, Nov. 13, 1874. Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Clyde Hulse of near Hedding Chapel east of Sparta; a son, Hollis Martin of Columbus, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Roxie Steinhelser of Galion.

Mr. Martin was a retired farmer and formerly resided in the Hedding Chapel area.

His body was removed to the Curl Funeral Home in Cardington where services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday. Burial will be in the Gilead Friends Church Cemetery south of Mount Gilead. Friends may call at the funeral home. The Jacobs Funeral Home of Marengo is in charge of arrangements.

Ike

to give them any value, he said.

SUMMIT CONFERENCE — Eisenhower said he feels it would be a great mistake to go to any summit conference with the Russians unless adequate preparations were made in advance.

NUCLEAR TESTS—Eisenhower spoke out emphatically against writing veto power into any Western agreement with Russia regarding suspension of nuclear weapons tests.

Any time there is veto power, such as the Soviets want, the whole purpose of the program is defeated, Eisenhower said.

He added there must be some sort of substantial proof that each side is doing exactly what it promised to do.

WAGE-PRICE — Eisenhower said it must be kept in mind that the nation's income tax program is based on profits. He said that if profits are worked down to the zero point, then another way will have to be found to run the government.

POLITICS — Eisenhower refused to be drawn out regarding any preference he may have on a GOP presidential nominee in 1960. A reporter recalled that Eisenhower said recently that he could name 10 or a dozen virile possibilities for the GOP nomination.

Unfair Practices Hearing Goes Into Second Day Here

The second day of a National Labor Relations Board hearing on two unfair labor practices charges against the Whirlpool Corp. by the United Auto Workers union started at 10 a.m. today in the Marion municipal courtroom.

During the day-long session from 10 a.m. to 5:50 p.m. Tuesday, the only witness was Carl Adkins, a former employe of the Marion division plant of Whirlpool. He was continuing his testimony again today.

The UAW alleges that Whirlpool exercised discrimination in the discharge of Mr. Adkins and also that an employe council at the local plant is in violation of labor laws.

Trial examiner for the NLRB is Bruce Hunt of Washington.

The company is being represented by Ralph Howard of the local law firm of Mickley, Frericks and Howard, and Phillip Willauer, labor relations counsel for Whirlpool.

Representing the UAW for the hearing is Lowell Goerlich of Washington, a former Marionite, now one of the union's top legal counselors.

Simpson, Lady Introduce Bills Into Assembly

By Our Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS—Two Marion area legislators introduced measures Tuesday in the 103rd General Assembly and another saw one of his bills reported out of committee with a recommendation for passage.

Sen. J. E. Simpson (R-Forest) offered a measure permitting the sale of unimproved public park lands.

Rep. Joseph E. Lady (R-Hardin) sponsored a bill to clarify the inheritance rights of children adopted by stepparents.

A bill to permit hunting of quail, co-sponsored by Rep. F. K. Cassel (R-Wyandot), was approved by the House conservation committee.

Simpson's proposal would apply to either county or city park lands remaining undeveloped 21 years after dedication for park purposes. If a majority of the residents adjacent to the park land requested, the county or city could offer the property at auction after holding public hearings.

Receipts from such sales would go into the general fund of the subdivision.

Lady's bill would permit an adopted child to inherit property willed to him under any name by which he was legally known. It would also include him in succession to property of his natural parents not covered by a will if he is adopted by a stepmother or stepfather.

The Cassel measure, co-sponsored by four other representatives, was recommended by a 15-3 vote. It would allow quail hunting on land owned or controlled by the state and on private lands under agreement between the state and the owners of the lands. The Wildlife Council would determine the seasons, bag limits, and other conditions.

Legislature

which also would determine bag limits and other regulations.

The House Judiciary Committee voted 15-2 to ban motor scooter licenses for those under 16 and revoke permits now outstanding to 14 and 15-year-olds.

The next legislative move is a floor vote in the House on the bills. The two measures have drawn more mail to lawmakers than all other pending proposals combined.

The Senate passed 18-11 and sent to the House a bill to keep voter registrations alive for four years of non-voting instead of two.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House a bill to permit teachers to have counsel at school board hearings involving their contract rights and to permit Miami University to give title to lands now managed under leaseholds.

A house bill aproved by a 114-5 vote would set a maximum penalty of $500 for practicing law without a license. Present law provides fines for those falsely representing themselves as lawyers.

Among 33 measures introduced Tuesday were bills to:

Create an Ohio Development Corp. made up of financial institutions to make loans to encourage industry and stimulate the state's economy.

Reduce state employes' work week to 35 hours.

Appropriate $25,000 to investigate the Ohio racing commission.

Require a majority of the value of real estate as well as a majority of freeholders on a petition to annex to a municipality.

British Facing New Series of African Riots

Natives of Nyasaland Start Demonstrations, Fired Upon by Troops

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (AP)—Britain is facing up to a new nationalist threat in Africa—mounting racial unrest in black Nyasaland.

With angry native demonstrations continuing since last Friday, Royal Air Force planes sprayed rock-throwing crowds with tear gas in Lilongwe Tuesday. Members of the King's African Rifles fired on the rioters in the marketplace and two casualties were reported.

Demonstrators Scattered

A spokesman for the British colonial government said the demonstrators were scattered by late afternoon, but sporadic shooting continued. The crowd turned ugly after officials prohibited the holding of a nationalist meeting.

It was the first trouble in Lilongwe, capital of Nyasaland's central province. Previous disturbances had been mostly in Blantyre, capital of the southern province.

Mainspring of the unrest is Dr. Hastings Banda, president of the Nyasaland African National party. His organization wants to take the protectorate of Nyasaland out of the Central African Federation, a member of the British Commonwealth which also includes self-governing Southern Rhodesia and the protectorate of Northern Rhodesia.

Reservists Called Up

To cope with the swelling movement, Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the Rhodesia-Nyasaland Federation, summoned thousands of young white reservists for intensive training. They will be stationed in principal cities to bolster the army and police.

Welensky said his aim was to "maintain peace and essential respect for law and order throughout the federation."

There are only 6,000 whites in Nyasaland — tea and tobacco growing region of three million Africans. The two Rhodesias have 250,000 whites and 4½ million blacks, and the whites of Southern Rhodesia dominate the federation government.

Banda wants Nyasaland to join Kenya and Tanganyika, neighboring territories under British control. He apparently thinks the militant nationalist leadership in Kenya will hasten a break from British control.

Kenya is a British colony, Tanganyika a U.N. Trust territory administered by Britain.

Kenton Plant Shut Down by Wildcat Strike

KENTON—Members of the first shift at the Rockwell Standard Corp. staged a wildcat walkout this morning. The plant had been operating under an old contract which had expired Jan. 18. A strike vote had been scheduled to be taken Sunday.

The plant employs about 300 workers. Heavy-duty truck axles are manufactured at the concern, formerly the Detroit-Timken Axle Co.

When the contract expired last month, officials of the United Auto Workers AFL-CIO agreed to an extension of the contract with the stipulation that either party could cancel it with five days written notice.

The company and union had agreed to switch the salary base from a piecework basis to an hourly rate, but were deadlocked over the salary scale.

The plant operates on a three-shift schedule. The two later shifts are not expected to work because of the walkout.

License of Wrong-Way Driver Lifted for Life

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—J. Emerson Goodrich, Hudson insurance agent who was involved in a wrong-way incident on the Ohio Turnpike last year, has lost his automobile driver's license for life.

Common Pleas Judge Erskine Maiden Tuesday fined Goodrich $50 and costs, along with the license revocation, but suspended the fine. Goodrich was charged with driving while intoxicated on U. S. 224 near Poland last July.

Goodrich still faces charges for traffic violations in Cuyahoga Falls and Newton Falls. The latter charge involves his arrest in Trumbull County for wrong-way driving on the turnpike.

West Doubtful Over Nuclear Weapons Ban

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain told Russia today that Tuesday's speech by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev raised the gravest doubts whether agreement could ever be reached to ban nuclear weapon tests.

The Western delegates at three-nation talks on a nuclear test ban said the Khrushchev speech suggested the Soviet Union has no intention of accepting any kind of effective international control. The West considers such control an indispensable element of a test ban threat.

Khrushchev told a Moscow audience Tuesday Western proposals for veto-free international control and inspection are unacceptable to Russia because they constitute "a thorough military reconnaissance of the entire territory of our people."

The conference has been at a virtual standstill over this issue for months.

Macmillan

reported refreshed by a good night's sleep.

Khrushchev made his attack on the West at a Soviet political rally in the Kremlin while Macmillan was out of Moscow on a visit to the atom research station at Dubna, near the Volga River.

The Soviet premier brushed aside as obsolete the Western proposal for a foreign ministers conference on Germany. Instead, he plumped again for summit talks and sprang a surprise by offering Britain a nonaggression pact. Once more he insisted that German reunification was a matter for the East and West German governments, not the Big Four.

In earlier private talks with the British premier, Khrushchev had given no indication he was to let loose with a blast at the West or revive the idea of a nonaggression treaty—an idea Macmillan put forward himself a year ago to alleviate Soviet fears of a reunited Germany.

French Also Informed

Khrushchev also remarked to French Ambassador Maurice Dejean at the party that "there will be no foreign ministers' conference."

In London, the pro-government Daily Mail suggested that Khrushchev's speech might have been designed as a deliberate insult and said, "if so, the discussions are practically wrecked and the prime minister's reconnaissance trip has failed."

In Washington, U.S. officials were inclined to regard Khrushchev's speech as a political maneuver which did not slam the door on an eventual foreign ministers' conference on Germany.

Junior High Music Festival Planned On Monday Night

Five ensemble groups from the city's three junior high schools will be featured when the annual Junior High School Instrumental Music Festival is held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Harding High School auditorium.

Ensemble groups participating will be:

Baker string ensemble, Chancey Caldwell, Alice Reber, Joyce Morrison, Trisha Haldeman and Marilyn Cottrell; Baker drum ensemble, Jay Walker, Bob Kannel, John Ball, James Gast and Mike Martin.

Taft trumpet quartet, Jack Schaffer, Terry Green, Ned Throckmorton and Gary Hodges; Edison saxophone trio, Marjorie Walker, Christine Ruby and Suzanne Culp, and Taft flute duet, Judy Castrop and Shelia McFarlin, accompanied by Barbara Jones on the piano.

An all-city orchestra and an all-city band, composed of students from the bands and orchestras in all three junior high schools, will perform.

Orchestra selections will be "Andante" from "The Surprise Symphony" by Haydn; "Minuet" from Handel's "F Major Sonata"; "Daybreak" from "Grand Canyon Suite" by Grofe-Isaac, and "The Concertmeisters Serenade" by Muller.

Band numbers are "Pacific Grandeur Overture," Olivadoti; "Prelude," Rachmaninoff - Johnson; "Aztec - Characteristic," Frank, and "Hosts of Freedom" by King.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the junior high school bands and orchestras or at the door Monday night. Directing the program are Homer Huffman, George Lane and Edward Miller, music instructors in city public schools.

Two Witnesses Avoid Hunt by Senate Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Chicago gangster barons wanted for questioning in connection with the violence - plagued jukebox - amusement machine rackets are mysteriously missing, Senate investigators said today.

Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Labor-Management Committee, said his subpoena servers have tried and failed for nearly a year to catch up with Sam (Mooney) Giancana and Ralph Capone, brother of the late Chicago gang czar, Al Capone. Kennedy has described Giancana as chief gunman for the successors to the old Capone mob.

The committee hopes to wind up by nightfall its hearings on allegations that gangsters, in league with some corrupt labor union officials, have imposed a rule of terror on thousands of coin machine operators in Chicago and its suburbs.

As major witnesses for the wind-up session Kennedy listed Hyman Larner, executive secretary and boss of the Chicago Independent Amusement Assn., and Fred Tom Smith, boss of the coin machine division of Local 134, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Plan To Ease Flooding Will Be Considered

Klingler Says More Catchbasins Will Help Situation on Daffodil

Legislation designed to provide a measure of relief to residents of Daffodil Dr. from the flooding of their street will be considered by City Council at its next regular meeting.

A decision to order in legislation proposing to install some new catchbasins and enlarge others to help carry off the rain water was reached by two members of council meeting Tuesday night with a delegation of 40 residents of Daffodil Dr.

City Sanitary Engineer T. A. Klingler presented the plan and estimated the cost at $2,000.

He explained that his plan would not prevent flooding in heavy rainfalls but should relieve the flooding from ordinary rains.

His plan is to install two new storm water catch basins on Prospect St. at Whitmore Ave., install four new hillside catchbasins on Thew Ave. at Windsor and Blaine avenues and to enlarge the capacity of five existing catchbasins on Daffodil Dr. by adding 10 new grates to them. He also advised that some of the existing catchbasins be cleaned to remove an accumulation of debris.

Councilmen Ralph Williams (R-4th) and Emmett Osterholt (R-6th) asked Safety-Service Director Howard W. Travis to assign city crews to clean the catchbasins within two weeks. Mr. Travis said he would do so if he could take the city crews off street repairs long enough to complete the work.

Mr. Klingler said that the $2,000 estimated cost of his proposal would be increased by $200 for each additional catchbasin that might be needed.

He said that the only solution to eliminate all flooding of the street would be the installation of a new, larger storm water sewer, which he previously estimated would cost $30,000 or more.

New Rocket Is Developed for Space Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — Details of a new rocket, the Little Joe, were made public today. It will be used in the early phase of the Mercury manned satellite project.

Little Joe is similar in name only to the Army's Little John, a long-range artillery rocket familiar to many a GI. Little Joe's functions will be scientific, not military.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration disclosed that Little Joe will be composed of:

1. A cluster of four Army Sergeant ballistic guided rockets. The Sergeant, 30 feet long, in its military version is the atomic-warhead successor to the 75-mile-range Corporal guided missile. It is produced by Sperry Gyroscope Co., Salt Lake City, Utah. The Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Huntsville, Ala., has a $2,200,000 contract to produce the clustered rockets, known as TX3320 and TX3322, for NASA.

2. A casing, transport vehicles and launcher, to be produced by the missile division of North American Aviation, Inc., Downey, Calif., under a $400,000 contract.

3. Small rockets, called XM19E1, attached to the side of Little Joe to provide assurance that the latter will attain the desired initial acceleration. Thiokol, Inc., Huntsville, has the $110,000 contract for these.

Little Joe will be used, perhaps at Wallops Island, Va., as well as at Cape Canaveral, Fla., to send prototype or sample-model space capsules high into the sky.

NASA said this work would shed light on launching and other problems that might later develop with the manned capsule in the Mercury satellites.

Repair Work Scheduled on Pearl Street

Planned repairs to the sewer trench backfill on Pearl St will consist of grading by a city grader and the spreading of additional limestone where needed, Mayor Wendell L. Strong said today.

In a statement Tuesday, the mayor said that he and Ben Miller of the Gage Construction Co., Sanitary Engineer T. A. Klingler and Charles Honaker, city street superintendent inspected the street Tuesday morning and determined repairs should be made as soon as weather permits.

Cost of the temporary repair work will be paid for from the sewer revenue fund through a change order on the contract for the Pearl St. sewer project, the mayor said today.

A delegation of Pearl St. residents appeared at the council meeting Monday night to complain about the condition of the street over the sewer trench and council referred the matter to its finance committee for study.

The mayor said that he learned for the first time Monday night that automobiles parked along the street had blocked previous attempts to properly complete temporary repairs to the street. He said yesterday that when weather permits the planned additional work, no parking signs will be posted and automobiles parked in violation of the signs will be towed from the street.

Contract for Election Supplies Awarded Here

The Vaughan Printing House at 122 Court St. was awarded a contract by the Marion County Board of Elections Tuesday night for printing 18,875 ballots for the May 5 primary election.

One of the three printing firms bidding on the ballots, Vaughan won the contract on a bid of $493. Other bidders were the Prospect Monitor, $514 and the Marion Graphic Arts Ltd. of 409 N. Prospect St., $671.40.

ILA Chieftain Visits Rome

Italy's Pro-Red Labor Leaders Woo Bridges

By VICTOR RIESEL

On the afternoon of Jan. 22, two mystery men whisked one of America's most powerful labor leaders from his plane at Ciampini Airport to a fortress - like building in Rome's most fashionable district — a building in which Soviet agents have launched propaganda riots and riotous propaganda against the U.S. That labor chief is Harry Bridges, leader of Pacific Coast Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Those two mystery men I can now identify as Soviet activists Agostino Novella, a leader of the bitterly anti-American Italian Communist party and Fernando Santi, one of the top men in the pro-Soviet Italian "Socialist" party.

VICTOR RIESEL

Both are members of the parliamentary bloc which has fought against Italy's partnership in Western defense alliances.

Comrade Novella is one of the commanders of the General Council of the World Federation of Trade Unions which is described in U. S. Intelligence files as a force engaged in attempting to capture democratic Western unions.

Since Harry Bridges has told high Soviet officials that he plans a series of meetings on our West Coast to tell of the Russians' virtues — and since this nation is having difficulty balancing its huge budget because we're spending more than 40 billion dollars to defend outselves against these virtues, let me put this on record

THE BUILDING to which the mystery men rushed Bridges is the headquarters of the "CGIL", the most powerful Communist labor organization outside the Iron Curtain and the Bamboo Screen.

Brother Bridges' long conference with the leaders of the pro-Soviet Italian labor apparatus was followed by similar whiskings from planes landing at airports controlled by Communist security police—such as the Prague field.

There, too, I can report, he made the rounds with Communist officials. There he sneered at most of us. Let me quote what he said so his followers and the American public may have it exact:

"Our visit to Czechoslovakia was unusually interesting for us . . .Because the American workers are systematically influenced by the press and radio, which are unfriendly to your country, we shall explain many views to the members of our union," Bridges said in Prague on Feb. 7.

THIS OUTFIT, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, controls cargo loaders on most of the Pacific Coast, in some Alaskan ports and in Hawaii.

It is also a political power on the Islands and has run several strikes which have proven that the ILWU can throw the brakes on Hawaii's economy. Without the men who follow Bridges very little can move in or out of the island outpost.

Bridges had more to say:

"The visit to the Tos factory at Celakovice, for instance, has convinced us of the nonsensical propaganda about working conditions in your factories, about the concern for the workers, about the life of young people and about the function and position of the trade union organization.

"Having visited Britain, France, Belgium, Greece and Egypt, we have gained the impression that you are on the best road for achieving still greater results than before."

Bridges and his party were in Communist territory at the invitation of the Communist Union of Workers in Transport and Telecommunications.

FROM PRAGUE he hit for Moscow as the guest of some Soviet labor outfits. There he said he had studied the Russian All-Union Central Council of Trade Unions.

Before leaving Moscow for a friendly reception by Communist unions in East Berlin, the West Coast labor chief announced that he believed that the Russian labor units were more democratic than "many American ones."

This he spiced up with a statement that if U S. labor chiefs visited Russia, "they would learn that everything the workers in America heard about the U.S.S R. is nothing but lies and slanderous propaganda."

That's strong language from Harry boy, considering the documented evidence of Soviet anti-Catholicism and anti-Semitism and the use of the global labor outfit, the WFTU, to stir anti-American demonstrations not only in Italy but in the tinder and oil filled Near East.

Whose friend is Harry Bridges—or does no one care?

Speaks at Church

Rev. Dale Riggs

Opening service of a revival effort at Calvary EUB Church with a guest minister, the Rev. Dale Riggs, as preacher was held Tuesday night. He is a Methodist pastor and evangelist from Van Wert. Scheduled to take part as song evangelist is Mrs. Edith Gallagher of Sebring. Because she was unable to be present at the first service the music was under direction of Philip Wendell of Marion as song leader. Organist and pianist were Miss Donna Eller and Robert Faulkner. Special music was by the instrumentalists and by Mr. Wendell. The services will continue nightly except Saturday through March 8.

Hearing Set March 18

Industrial Zone Plans For Township Revised

The Marion Township Zoning Commission announced today it will hold a hearing March 18 on a revised plan to rezone for industrial use a large tract in the northeastern corner of the township.

Fred Warner, commission chairman, said the new plan involves some 960 acres instead of 1,300 acres as originally proposed. He said township trustees and property owners are being notified of the meeting by registered mail today.

At a hearing last week, the commission's proposal to rezone 1,300 acres drew opposition from Dennis L Trachsel who wanted some 350 acres of his housing development excluded from the proposed industrial area.

Mr. Warner said the commission has decided to exclude Mr. Trachsel's land and tracts on the east and west boundaries of his property owned by the Dekalb Agricultural Society. A 160-acre tract, bounded on the south by County Rd. 162 and on the west by County Rd. 215, was added to the proposed industrial area, Mr. Warner said.

The proposed industrial zone also includes some 800 acres of the old Scioto Ordnance lands which are being put up for lease by the General Services Administratin.

During the first hearing, Mr. Trachsel objected to the size of the proposed industrial zone. He urged the commission to "follow the pattern that has been established" in industrial zoning along railroad right of ways

Mr. Warner said this morning that he felt "the pattern established by past zoning is obsolete."

"Every day we see in the Wall Street Journal where large industrial park sites are being made available," he said, "and that's what we're trying to do here."

The hearing on the revised plan will be held in the Township Hall at 115½ S. Main St. and will begin at 8 p.m., Mr. Warner said.

31 Harding Music Students To Play In District Contest

Hal March Goes Back to School

These appear to be studious times in TV. First Ed Murrow requests a year's sabbatical from his CBS duties to "travel, read and learn more." And now Hal March rejects an NBC option on his daytime services because he's going back to school — acting school.

Marie Torre

After 20 years as a professional performer, March has decided that many - figured emcee jobs have taken him as far away from his original theatrical ambitions as they're going to.

His mother, March recalls, raised him to be an actor, which he was until the gold in "$64,000 Question" sidetracked his talents. Now he seeks to return to the acting ranks and he's starting out by learning the rudiments of his craft.

INSTEAD of spending future afternoons with the nation's housewives, as NBC had hoped he would, March will be attending classes at the Actors Workshop, where he's under the tutelage of the respected Paul Mann.

He devotes four afternoons a week to acting instruction, three sessions a week to vocal coaching. He never has seemed more at peace with himself.

"My only regret," says March, "is that I didn't do this earlier. This has been like an awakening."

Although March earned a small ransom during the last five years in TV, he wasn't able to save enough to keep the family eating while he plays the student.

"OH, I'VE SAVED enough to last me until Thursday," he quipped.

He is available for a once-a-week panel show, guest shots, or any other TV work that would enable him to pay the bills and still allow him to study.

"I didn't want to take the NBC daytime show," he explained, "because it would have required daily participation and would have prevented me from going to the workshop.

"Of course, I might have felt differently if it involved the kind of work that would have pricked my acting enthusiasm. But what would another emcee job do for me? Make me more frustrated, probably.

"And you've no idea how frustrated I've been. Especially when I see acting giants like Marlon Brando, and some of those brilliant young actors coming along who never quit learning. Even Brando attends acting class whenever he's in New York.

"Actors who are serious about their work can't afford to quit learning, ever! I'm just sorry it took me so long to see it this way. But somehow I don't think it's too late."

STEVE ALLEN'S March 1 audience will be permitted a view of Jayne Mansfield — in a proper state of dress, it's hoped. . . .

After much deliberation, NBC has decided to fill the vacant Sunday 8:30 p.m. time period, as of April 5, with "The Lawless Years," starring James Gregory, who will portray a true-life detective of the roaring '20s. NBC's "Pete Kelly's Blues," scheduled to be launched soon, also will be set in the '20s, and, if television runs true to form, there probably will be a full-scale revival on TV of double-breasted suits, short skirts and cloche hats, not to mention bathtub gin. . . .

They like Phil Silvers so much in England they're running his Bilko series three nights a week. . . .

NBC correspondents Irving R. Levine (Moscow) and Joseph Michaels (Rome) switch posts on March 15.

BING CROSBY'S 21 - year - old son, Lindsay, fresh out of the Army, will concentrate on a television career, with Sunday's Buddy Bregman show as his post-Army engagement. . . .

The Du Pont "Show of the Month" is conducting a search for a "veteran" (?) actor of 7 who looks like 5 for the role of Ulysses Macauley in "The Human Comedy" March 28. The Ulysses character is actually 5 but, according to the labor laws of New York City, no child younger than 7 may work as an actor in "live" TV dramatic plays.

3 Directors Named By Morrow Group

MOUNT GILEAD — Newly elected trustees of the Morrow Electric Cooperative announced at the cooperative's annual meeting Tuesday at the Chesterville High School are: Paul DeBolt of near Fredericktown, Ira Lawyer of near Mount Gilead, and Carl Chapman of near Mount Gilead.

The annual elections are conducted by mail. In District 3 Mr. Lawyer, incumbent, defeated Kenneth Fritz and A. S. Fate.

In District Four Carl Chapman topped Carl Simmons and Warren Squires.

In District 5 Paul DeBolt was elected over J. R. Phillips and J. W. Ransom.

Mr. Lawyer was returned to the board for his third three - year term. Mr. Chapman begins his first full term on the board, having been appointed to serve out the term of J. Dill Evans who retired from the board in 1957. Mr. DeBolt has served as a trustee since 1936.

LADY AND LIONESS. Carol Lee Applegate of Jeffersonville, Ind., and Blondie, a lioness, are a striking pair at a home exhibition held in Louisville, Ky.

Nitwits in Congress? Question Sparks Spirited House Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are there nitwits in the House of Representatives?

House members debated that question, then left it unanswered after a brief but spirited discussion Tuesday on the House floor.

The debate was broken up after at least one member insisted that more of his colleagues be on hand if such a controversial matter were to be discussed.

"I think the folks ought to hear it," commented Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich).

Hoffman objected to such a weighty debate without the presence of a quorum—218 members. Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) counted only about 20 and then rammed through a motion to adjourn rather than summon the absentees. There was no other business anyway.

The adjournment ended a three-way debate among Reps. Henry Reuss (D-Wis), Gardner Withrow (R-Wis) and Wayne Hays (D-Ohio).

It involved a speech Withrow made recently to the Congress of the Dominican Republic. Withrow was quoted as having told the Dominican legislators "we sometimes elect" nit-wits to the United States Congress.

Reuss didn't like any of the speech. Hays took umbrage at the reference to nitwits in Congress. He told the House he had first considered objecting to reprinting the Withrow speech in the Congressional Record. However, the sharp-tongued Ohioan added, after reading the entire speech he was inclined to believe that Withrow had proved his point.

Withrow denied having referred to colleagues as nitwits. Confronted with what Hays said was an official transcript, Withrow retorted that there was no official transcript made.

In his own time, Withrow said, he would make his own defense of his speech to the Dominicans. Hays said he hoped Withrow would. Reuss said he, too, hoped the debate would be resumed.

Captains Chosen In Crestline Drive

CRESTLINE — Captains for the 1959 Red Cross membership drive in the Crestline area were announced today by Mrs. Alfred Korejuva, general chairman for the drive.

The campaign this year has a goal of $4,881. It will start here March 8.

Captains serving in the residential area of Crestline are Mrs. Clarence Peaslee, Mrs. James Gehrisch, Miss Elizabeth O'Leary, Mrs. Richard Gall, Mrs. Albert Schwert, Mrs. Cleveland Wood, Mrs. E. J. McCaffrey, Mrs. Hershel Horn, Mrs. Donald Hall, Mrs. M. J. Eichleberger, Mrs Bernard Dieck, Mrs. William Abel and Mrs. Charles Lauer.

Mrs. Martin Hoffman is captain in the Leesville area. Mrs. Peter Soldan and Mrs. E. D. Krichbaum will handle the rural area and Mrs. Harold Simpson the Tiro area.

A meeting of the captains and their workers will be held at the YMCA at 9:30 a.m. March 3 for the drive's kickoff. A short film will be shown.

TV Highlights

TONIGHT

7:30, WLW-C, Wagon Train: "The Annie Griffith Story." While seeking a pass through the snow-covered mountains, Flint McCullough is wounded by Shoshoni Indians when he nears their camp. He is saved from death in the cold by Annie Griffith, played by Jan Sterling, who lives in this territory and is friendly with the Indians. Then Annie discloses that she will use Flint as barter with the Indians in exchange for money to transport her back to civilization.

7:30, WBNS, Trackdown: A gang of young saddle tramps on a rampage occupy Texas Ranger Hoby Gilman's attention. Not only do they overrun the town, but they hold a hostage to insure their safety.

Radnor Clips Iberia in 36-35 Tournament Battle

Newark Squeezes Past Union Local

By ALLAN BOVEY

In a brace of hard-fought, ball-control hardcourt games in Marion Sectional Class A tourney play Tuesday night in the Coliseum, Radnor defeated Iberia 36-35 and Newark Catholic edged Union Local 35-32.

Some 1,500 persons turned out to see Coach Dick Meyer's Radnor Trojans win the right to tangle with Fredericktown and Mentor Walter Reid's cagers earn a spot against Green Camp in Thursday night play.

Tournament action will be resumed with another two-game card tonight. Ridgedale, 99-41 winner over Chesterville in Monday's opening game, will lay its 21-3 record on the line against Richwood in the 7 p.m. opener. The Tigers go into the game with 10 wins against 11 setbacks. In the nightcap, scheduled for 8:30, Prospect, Marion County tournament champion, will carry its 17-3 mark into action against Danville. The Knox County cagers have won 11 while losing 10.

RADNOR, NOW 17-4 for the season, had to go all out to stave off a last ditch drive by Joe Shantz's Iberians. The Trojans, who tallied 14 times from the field and made 8 of 18 at the foul line, compared to 14 goals for the Presidents and 7 of 18 in the bonus circle, were trailing until the 2:05 mark in the third quarter.

Iberia, the underdog in the game by virtue of its 14-8 record, led at the quarter 11-8, and was still atop the pile at 17-14 at halftime. Neither team was overly effective scorewise, Iberia because of costly turnovers and Radnor due to an inclination to put on a dribbling show for the crowd, which was ably performed by Glenn Schultz.

Iberia was leading 22-21 when the Trojans' David James rolled in the 2:05 goal that gave Radnor the lead for the first time. Another goal by Ted Coonfare made it 25-22 at the three-quarter mark.

With 3:35 left in the finale, Radnor had a 31-25 edge. Iberia's Fred Tinch hit for two points to make it 31-27 at the 2:45 point. Cliff Mauch scored with 2:23 left and Iberia was within two points of a tie at 31-29.

THE TROJANS were stalling for the shots that counted from then on and with 1:45 showing Coonfare layed one in that made it 33-29, Radnor in the van. Tinch tallied for Iberia and it was 33-31 with 51 seconds left to play.

A pair of free throws by Tinch knotted the count at 33-33 but three bonus shots by Schultz put the game on ice for Radnor. Iberia's Bob Foust rolled in the final two points for the Prexies as the game ended.

Both quintets scored six points in the second period. The big inning for Meyer's cagers was the third when they hit for 11 while Iberia could manage but 5. The Presidents were good for 13 in the fourth frame, compared to 11 for the victors.

Pacing the Radnor attack was Coonfare, whose 17 points came on 6 goals and 5 free throws. Foust led Iberia with 14 digits on 7 from the field. Tinch contributed 12 on a 5 and 2 effort.

Newark Catholic, whose record is now a sparkling 19-2, had its hands full with stubborn Union Local.

The Wolves of Robert Brammer led their adversaries 9-5 at the quarter and 17-15 at intermission. The Irish came on to take the lead at 25-23 after three sessions and squecked home by the three-point margin.

ALL TOLD, Newark got 13 goals and 9 of 14 free throws. Union managed 10 from the field and 12 of 19 in the charity circle. Only 21 fouls were whistled in the action, 12 against the Irish, 9 against the Wolves.

Newark Catholic, which played a listless first half, came to life as the third quarter rolled into being, tying the count at 17-17 on a goal by Yonker. The score was tied thereafter in that frame at 19-19, 21-21 and 23-23 before the period ended with the Irish on the long end of a 25-23 mark.

With 3:31 left in the finale, Ne-

American Girl Shoots for 4th Skating Crown

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — With pert Carol Heiss well on her way toward her fourth straight women's crown, the world figure skating championships turn tonight to the first final competition — the pairs.

Seven couples from four countries, including three strong United States teams, will attempt to wrest the title from the two-time champion Canadian pair, Robert Paul and Barbara Wagner.

The ladies are scheduled to complete the final three of their compulsory assignments before lunch, leaving only Thursday night's free skating to determine the championship.

Miss Heiss, the New York University coed from Ozone Park, N. Y. is expected to go into the free skating phase with an almost unsurmoutable lead.

Through the first three figures Tuesday, she was well ahead of her strongest challenger, Hanna Walter of Austria, 318.3 points to 295.8.

Following the two leaders in the standings were: Barbara Roles, Temple City, Calif., 278.1; Sjoukje Dijkstra, Holland, 275.4; Joan Haanappel, Holland, 266.7; Ina Bauer, West Germany, 263.7; Lynn Finnegan, Boston, 260.7, and Nancy Heiss, Ozone Park, N. Y., 256.5.

TRAINING CAMP OPENS. Three Kansas City pitchers share the same ball as the Athletics opened pitcher-catcher drills at Connie Mack Field in West Palm Beach, Fla., Tuesday. The hurlers are (left to right) Tom Gorman, Jack Urban and Ray Herbert. The entire team was to report for drills later this week. (UPI Telephoto)

Miami's Cagers Await Bid For Play in NCAA Tourney

By The Associated Press

St. Mary's (Calif) and Louisville are packaged for delivery and Miami of Ohio is about to tie the knot today as the field fills for the NCAA basketball championships.

St. Marys — the West Coast's successor to once-mighty San Francisco—nailed an NCAA berth Tuesday night by clinching the West Coast A.C. title with a 58-57 overtime victory over runner-up College of the Pacific. Louisville, the fast improving Southern independent, was selected as an at-large entry.

Redskins Whip Ohio U.

Unless a playoff is required, Miami of Ohio is set as the representative of the Mid-American Conference after rolling its record to 9-1 in league play with an 84-71 whipping of Ohio U.

Bowling Green, the only team with a chance to tie Miami for the Mid-American title, lost its two regular season games to the Redskins. In any event, Miami can remove even this doubt by winning one of its two remaining conference tests — the next against Kent State on Saturday.

Marquette, an earlier at-large choice by the NCAA, boosted its record to 19-3 with a 95-76 victory over Notre Dame; Navy improved its selection chances in a 70-58 triumph over Delaware; and Rice and Texas A&M won Southwest Conference tests in other Tuesday features.

4-Year Reign Ended

Dartmouth and St. Joseph's, Pa., two likely NCAA entries as conference qualifiers, extended their winning streaks—Dartmouth to 15 as Holy Cross fell 81-64, and St. Joseph's to nine, over Drexel 82-59.

Beating COP on Bobby Dold's long one-hander in the closing seconds of overtime, St. Mary's ended San Francisco's four-year championship reign in the WCAC.

Louisville's selection, despite a 12-10 record, was based on a late season splurge that has produced five victories in the last six games and triumphs over the likes of Bradley, Marquette, and Dayton, the latter twice.

Marquette, which will join Louisville in Mid-East regional preliminaries at Lexington, Ky. March 9 or 10, got 39 points from 6-8 Mike Moran in its bout of Notre Dame.

Nine free throws by Dickie Odum in the closing minutes enabled Wake Forest to turn back South Carolina 60-53 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. Roger Potts' two free throws in the final minute enabled Oklahoma to pull into a tie for second in the Big Eight with a 54-52 squeaker over Oklahoma State.

Elliott Delays Birthday Parties To Study Latin

MELBOURNE (AP) — World champion miler Herb Elliott was 21 years old today and said he planned to spend tonight studying Latin.

It's a compulsory subject at Cambridge University, England, which he hopes to attend after the 1960 Rome Olympics.

"I'll celebrate my coming of age with Anne when she has her 21st birthday in June," he said. "We will be married by then too."

Coach Takes Cage Team From Floor

Delaware State College was ahead 66-55 with 6:59 remaining in the game when the coach, Don Kennedy, of St. Peter's College, Jersey City, N. J., called his team from the floor.

A personal foul had been called against Don Jr., the captain of the St. Peter's squad, and the younger Kennedy hotly contested the call in strong language.

Then the referee, Percy Van Pelt, called a technical foul against the player and at that point his father called it quits.

YOUNG COURTSTERS

CINCINNATI (AP) — Youth seems to be the key word for the professional Cincinnati Royals basketball team. Average age on the squad is 23.

Prexy Cage Team Duels Shelby Next

Coach Don Knodel and his Harding High School cage squad have speeded up the pace of their drills as they prepare for Friday night's battle with Shelby.

At stake in Friday's contest will be the upper bracket title of the Marion Sectional Class AA tournament and a chance to seek the district title here the following week against Lima's sectional winners.

Mansfield will battle Ashland at the Coliseum Saturday night with the winner of that clash also moving into district play.

Drawings for the district action will be held Sunday noon at the Highway Hotel with Gordon Larson, tournament manager, in charge. The district titlist will be decided in two games scheduled at the Coliseum Friday March 6 with the two winners meeting Saturday, March 7 for the district crown and a trip to regional play at Toledo. The regional event will be held March 13 and 14.

Harding moves into the Friday night contest against Shelby with the favorite's role. The Prexies moved past Mansfield Madison 66-41 in their opening sectional test last Friday and then erupted for an 84-41 victory over Crestline Saturday afternoon. It was the Presidents' most explosive performance of the season.

Shelby in its only tournament test thus far clipped Bucyrus by a 54-39 margin. On the basis of the Bucyrus clash, Harding's chief task against the Whippets will be the stopping of Lenni Reidel, 5-11 senior guard. The Shelby sharpshooters pumped in 24 points against the Bucyrians and probably will be covered closely by Harding's defensemen.

Webb Given Edge In Bout With Boyd

CHICAGO (AP) — After five years, Spider Webb and his Chicago rival, Bobby Boyd, will get together in the same ring tonight.

Both are ranking middleweight contenders, Webb holding the No. 3 spot and Boyd No. 7.

The 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium will be televised—ABC, 10 p.m. EST—and scored under the five point must system.

The bout will be the first promotion of National Boxing Enterprises, Inc., formerly the Chicago branch of the court-dissolved International Boxing Club.

Webb, 27, is a 9-7 favorite. In 1954, he knocked out Boyd in the sixth round of a preliminary bout.

First Place in Poll Goes To East Tech

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland East Tech's Scarabs are favored heavily to repeat as Ohio's Class AA high school basketball champions.

The state's sports writers gave the defending kings an overwhelming vote of confidence today in the final Associated Press poll, 19 of 37 scribes picking the Clevelanders as the No. 1 team.

Two Leading Teams Defeated

Fame could be fleeting, however, since two of the top 10 teams failed to get by the first sectional tournament game and are already out of the title race despite their lofty ratings.

Toledo Central Catholic, rated on East Tech's heels, carried an 18-game winning streak into the opening sectional fray at Toledo against Toledo Waite which had lost its last six in compiling a 7-9 record.

The outcome: Waite 62, Central Catholic 61.

Upper Sandusky, rated ninth with an 18-1 record, was dumped 63-46 by Ashland, which had won 8 of 18 pre-tourney tilts.

Claims Comeback Title

Meanwhile, Marietta put in a bid as the comeback team of the year. The Tigers, 5-14 a year ago, defeated tenth-ranked Chillicothe and Southeastern Ohio Conference champion Gallipolis last weekend to run their mark to 13-5. Frank Christie leads the Tigers with 428 points, a 23-plus average.

East Tech won the Cleveland city title by defeating St. Ignatius for its 43rd straight conquest. The Scarabs opened defense of the state title last night, defeating Warrensville 92-44 in the sectional meet at Bedford.

Salem's fifth - ranked Quakers have a 35-1 record for the last two regular campaigns. They were 18-0 last year and 17-1 this time, before dashing into tournament play. The lone loss was 68-57 at the hands of champion East Tech.

Third-ranked Elyria needed only one man against Olmsted Falls in the Class AA sectional opener. All-Ohio football end Walt Rock scored 29 points, matching the loser's total, as Elyria made it 19 in a row by a 62-29 count.

State's Top Squads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here's how 37 sports editors, 22 from newspapers and 15 from radio-television stations, rated Ohio's high school basketball teams today in the final Associated Press Class AA poll.

Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc voting basis, and the won-lost records of the leaders:

Boxer's Trainer Killed During Family Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Sedgwick Harvey, 48, a trainer for Bobby Boyd, one of the country's ranking middleweight boxers, was fatally shot Tuesday night during a family quarrel in his home.

Police said Thurman Brooks, 47, step-father of Harvey's wife, Carlisle, 34, admitted shooting Harvey twice "for pushing my wife around." The Brooks and Harvey families, who are Negroes, live in the same South Side apartment.

Catcher's Son Admits Taking Part in Theft

NEW YORK (AP)—The 15-year-old son of Roy Campanella, former baseball great, has admitted breaking into a Queens drug store.

David Campanella was arrested a little more than an hour after he was found guilty Tuesday of another juvenile delinquency charge.

The father, partially paralyzed in an auto accident a year ago, was shocked by the arrest

"The boy's my boy," he said. "I got to try to help him when he gets messed up. I tried to help as much as I could with juvenile delinquency and here's my boy that jumped off the track."

As David's mother, Mrs. Ruthe Campanella, took the boy home following the second arrest she said: "This is going to break his father's heart."

David, a 10th grader in a private school in Queens, told police he and a friend, George Delmos, 16, broke into the drug store 11 days ago.

Campanella, a Negro, and Delmos, who is white, are accused of looting the till and taking cigarettes and cosmetics.

The store's proprietor, Daniel Statesman, said $500 was taken. David told police he took $9 and some cigarettes.

"We were acting a little crazy," David said. "I just got mixed up with some crazy kids."

Young Campanella faces arraignment before Domestic Relations Judge Wilfred A. Waltemade who already has found him guilty of juvenile delinquency.

Waltemade convicted the boy following police charges that David and Delmos took part with others in a street fight Monday.

Noll To Face Trotters

TO PLAY AGAINST GLOBETROTTERS. This is Chuck Noll, alumnus of the University of Dayton and professional football star with the Cleveland Browns who will play on Dante Lavelli's quintet against the Harlem Globetrotters in the Coliseum March 14. Noll, a guard on Paul Brown's crew, is one of several Browns who, along with other pro footballers, make up the Lavelli cage squad. Noll and his mates will tangle with the Globetrotters and "Wilt the Stilt" Chamberlain in the feature attraction of a two-game card. The "Texas Cowgirls" will play a preliminary game against a team from the Marion Whirlpool plant. The night of basketball will be a benefit for the Magnetic Springs Foundation. Tickets, all of which are for reserved seats at $1.50, $2 and $2.50, are on sale at the National City Bank, Henney and Cooper and may be set aside by calling 2-0605.

Indians' Relief Rookie Happy At Assignment

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Pitcher Bob Tiefenauer, a 29-year-old knuckle-ball artist, says he is perfectly happy doing bullpen duty.

And if Tiefenauer can come close to his record with the Toronto Maple Leafs last year, Cleveland Indians Manager Joe Gordon will be more than happy to have him in his bullpen.

Tiefenauer appeared in 64 games for Toronto and got credit for 17 wins and five losses. His earned run average of 1.89 was the best in the International League.

While most pitchers resent assignment to the bullpen, Tiefenauer says he has always been a relief pitcher and enjoys it.

"I guess it's what I'm best suited for," he remarked. "I can pitch every day if I have to."

Tiefenauer, a sidearmer with a relaxed motion, has remarkable control for a knuckle ball pitcher. He walked only 49 batters in 157 innings last year and passed about 20 of them intentionally.

One thing worries him.

"I understand that a knuckle ball doesn't act the way it should in this altitude. I'm liable to get my brains knocked out before we go back east."

Cross Country Title at Stake In Ski Activity

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—The world's top cross country skiers, racers who speed uphill as well as down, compete this weekend in the North American Nordic Championships, a 1960 winter Olympic preview.

Such a race in Finland, Norway or Sweden could draw 100,000 or more fans.

Maybe 50 or 70 spectators may show up Saturday.

This first race goes over 30-kilometers (18.4 miles) on a narrow winding course that's one-third up, one-third down and one-third level.

To make certain the courses meet Olympic standards, Sweden sent its world champions Sixteen Jernberg and Per-Erik Larsson. Norway is represented by Hallgein Brenden, a two-time Olympic gold medal winner, Finland by Veikko Hakulinen and Kalevi Hamalainen, both world champs, and Russia by Nikolai Ankin, tops in his country.

Japan's hopes for North American honors rests with its champion, Akio Kawamura. Ted Farwell, a Denver University student and member of two Olympic teams, is the best American prospect.

"This race and the 15 kilometer Monday can be compared to your World Series," said Sigge Bergman, president of the Swedish Ski Assn. "Such a race in Sweden would be a fantastic success." The starting list includes 12 foreigners and 27 Americans.

Outside of complaints of the high elevation, the courses set up by Wendell Broomhall, of Rumford, Maine, have received favorable comment from the foreign aces.

Bowling

Scoring at the Marion Recreation Center Tuesday night were Craftsman and Automotive keglers. Plaza Ladies were in action on the Plaza Lanes, while MPS and the Sportsmen tallied at the Palace.

Bill Daugherty paced the Craftsmen with 235 and 642 totals. Other highs went to Charles Bloomingdale, 204—569; Cliff Philhans, 213—565; Maynard Snyder, 558; Paul Eshman, 557; Gene Shellhorn, 206—553; Don Johnson, 203—548; Dick Whaley, 544; Cliff Drake, 207—538; Sam Mehaffey, 533; Bob Johnston, 532, George Alber, 532; Roy Behm, 531; and John Parshall, 202. Hamilton Wrecking and K. of C. had team highs of 2648 and 935.

Hank Temple and Gene Winters were top scorers for the Automotive loop, posting 213 and 539 highs, also credited with good totals were Gene Koons, 503; Jack Clutter, 517; Walt Hamilton, 520, Ike Shellhorn, 511; Ralph Flinchbaugh, 505; Ray Behm, 206—512; and Bob Packer, 519. Gulliford Cagers Take 76-61 Win Over MCI

Gulliford Hardware raced to a 76-61 victory over the Marion Correctional Institution Tuesday night at the MCI floor. The Green Camp cagers dropped a 67-46 verdict to the Hornets in an early-season contest.

The Hornets grabbed a 14-11 lead in the first stanza but the Green Camp squad came back to assume a 27-24 halftime margin and went into the last quarter with a 52-43 cushion.

Sharrel Leffler pumped in 23 points to lead the winning attack while Flach added 13 and Sherm McKinniss scored 12. Byrd had 28 for the host team with Kellom hitting for 15 and Jefferson adding 10.

wark had a 31-27 lead and was stalling. Al Howard was fouled, however, made his shot and it was 32-27. Into the game for Union Local came Gale Trees and he promptly banged in a goal that made it 32-29 at the 1:19 mark.

Howard then fouled Trees who made his first shot, missed the second, and the count was 32-30. With 51 seconds left, Norman Herron rolled in a set shot and everything was even at 32-32.

NEWARK'S Howard, attempting to stall for a final shot, was fouled by Trees and made one to give his mates a 33-32 lead. Then, with only nine seconds remaining, Howard was fouled by Jim Lowery. This time both free throws were good and the Irish had the decision.

By game's end, Howard and Dick Yonker both had 10 points for Newark, Howard on 3 from the field and 4 at the foul line, Yonker on 4 goals and 2 bonus shots. Herron goaled three times and hit on 6 charity shots to lead his Union crew with 12 points.

Reds' Official To Talk Terms To Del Ennis

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The problem of signing veteran outfielder Del Ennis to a Cincinnati Reds contract still is before General Manager Gabe Paul.

Ennis was acquired during the off season in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals to help give the Reds some right handed hitting power but thus far he hasn't come to terms. Paul said he has had several talks with Ennis and expects to confer with him again shortly.

No fewer than seven pitchers got a chance to do some throwing Tuesday as the batterymen and a few others took their second workouts.

Lawrence, Acker and Newcombe were on the Reds' mound staff last year and O'Toole is the highly touted youngster up from Nashville of the Southern Assn.

Another youthful hurler—19-year-old Claude Osteen—came in for some praise from Lefty Gomez, the old New York Yankee pitcher.

Gomez called Osteen, a southpaw, one of the brightest prospects he had seen in years and said:

"He has a real good fast ball and an excellent curve. He has enough stuff to pitch in the majors right now. All he needs is experience."

Findlay Squad Takes Title in Mid-Ohio Race

By The Associated Press

One college basketball conference championship has been decided, and another is as good as won, as a result of Tuesday night's Ohio cage action.

Findlay wrapped up the Mid-Ohio laurels with a runaway 95-66 victory over Cedarville.

Miami's Redskins can do no worse than tie for the Mid-American Conference title after beating Ohio University 84-71.

Findlay (16-5) finished its conference play with a 10-2 record. The Oilers' 12th straight victory put their ace rival for the title—Wilmington —. out of contention, even for a tie. Wilmington has a 7-3 loop mark and two conference games left to play.

Miami, defending Mid-American champ, now stands 9-1 in the conference and has two games remaining. Second place Bowling Green has an 8-3 loop mark, and must win its one remaining game, while Miami loses both of its tilts, to eke out a tie for the championship.

Ohio U. ended its season with a 6-6 conference record and 13-9 over-all mark.

In other conference action:

Defiance collected its 17th victory in 22 games, 81-65 over Bluffton. It was the Yellow Jackets' eighth Mid-Ohio triumph in 12 starts. Bluffton finished its season 10-10 over-all and 6-6 in the conference.

Capital posted an 80-59 Ohio Conference win over Denison.

More Sports On Page 23

Outside the conferences, Oberlin took an 85-77 victory over Western Reserve. And Ohio teams split a pair with Indiana quintets, Wittenberg outclassing Earlham 53-31, and Taylor trouncing Wilberforce 110-87.

Braves Begin Search of NL For Infielder

By The Associated Press

The National League champion Milwaukee Braves are right back where they were two years ago when they had a performer of top caliber at every position except second base.

With Red Schoendienst hospitalized with tuberculosis and their spring training camp open for business, the Braves reportedly are sending out smoke signals.

Prime targets, according to Southland scuttlebutt, are Johnny Temple of Cincinnati and Jim (Junior) Gilliam of Los Angeles. Both are second basemen in good standing.

Gabe Paul, Cincinnati's general manager, is expeced to confer with Milwaukee officials soon. The Reds would like to land Don McMahon, the Braves' bullpen ace, who is still back home in Lancaster, Ohio, moaning about his 1959 contract.

Because the batteries are charged up early in training, most of the news from the camps had to do with pitchers and catchers.

Manager Solly Hemus of the St. Louis Cards tabbed Jim Brosnan his No. 1 reliever. He also put the finger on veterans Sal Maglie, Alex Kellner and Marv Grissom for short term relief work.

Rookie pitchers Mike Dee, Don Hyman and Gaylord Perry fired the ball past regulars Willie Mays, Hank Sauer and Ray Jablonski in the San Francisco Giants' quarters at Phoenix, Ariz. Perry got about $85,000 to sign with the West Coast club.

Paul Foytack, Detroit's star right-hander, predicted a banner season. The reason? "I got confidence now that I can get the ball over the plate." Foytack had a 15-13 record with the Tigers last year.

TEAM GOT HOT

FRIENDSVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Less than 24 hours after fire destroyed the Friendsville High School gym and sports equipment, Friendsville beat nearby Townsend, 53-20 ,in a basketball game—using togs and a gym borrowed from crosstown rival, Friendsville Academy.

NEW GAS-SAVING V-8 ENGINE

This year, the Mercury Monterey has a new, special Economy V-8 engine that is amazingly efficient . . . gives you luxury-car performance, plus an economy that rivals much smaller automobiles.

This specially designed V-8 squeezes extra miles out of every drop of gas . . . regular gas, not premium! It's actually like "riding free" 10 miles in every 100.

Seldom has a car received such universal acclaim from the experts—the auto editors who have road-tested all the '59 cars.

For example, "Car Life"—leading automotive publication—in its February issue, rates Mercury "best buy" in its field—top car for PERFORMANCE, RIDING COMFORT, INTERIOR DESIGN, EASE OF CONTROL, ECONOMY. Some of "Car Life" editor's statements about the '59 Mercury:

"Outstanding combination of ease of control, all-around riding comfort . . ."

"One of the very top U. S. road cars."

"The most livable, easy-to-get-into and out-of passenger compartment in Mercury's price class."

Sen. Proxmire Taken to Task By Fulbright

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) was accused today of acting with "very poor grace" and little justification in challenging Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's control of the Senate's Democratic legislative machinery.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) added that he considered Proxmire's revolt against the Senate majority leader's operations a matter "of no great importance."

But Proxmire, conceding little likelihood of immediate change, said that "perhaps in two or three years we may get where the leadership feels a responsibility to the membership."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, spoke in an interview as Proxmire won support from Sens. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) and Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa).

Morse and Clark Tuesday joined Proxmire in calling for a revival of party caucuses to decide which bills to bring up for floor consideration. Proxmire told the Senate Monday that this is necessary if Democrats are to carry out their campaign pledges.

But Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) lined up with those who have rallied around Johnson. Chavez said the sooner Proxmire learns he is not the only one who took an oath to support the Constitution, "the better it will be for all concerned."

Fulbright told reporters he thought Proxmire's stand was not well taken.

"I don't question his motives," Fulbright said, "but I think his floor speech came with very little provocation. Sen. Proxmire has been exceptionally well treated on committee assignments."

Fulbright said there were other ways—rather than a public speech on the floor—for Proxmire to have raised questions concerning Johnson's leadership.

County, Township Road Mileage Totals Checked

J. K. Wells, representative of the state department of planning and survey, met with township trustees in the county engineer's office today to adjust county and township road mileage for 1959.

The county and 15 townships share in distribution of motor vehicle license money under the Wheeler Bill in proportion to the road mileage maintained by each. Last year the county had 404.66 miles of roads and the townships maintained 240.91 miles of roads.

The engineer's office said the new figures probably would not be available until late this afternoon.

Arrested on Warrant

Edward H. Mattison, 35, of 418 N. Grand Ave. was arrested by sheriff's deputies Tuesday afternoon on a Union County warrant charging him with non-support. He was turned over to Union County authorities at 10 p.m., deputies said.

Local Driver Injured as Car Misses Curve and Overturns

A Marion man was admitted to General Hospital after one of three county injury accidents investigated Tuesday night by Marion post patrolmen.

James D. Huckaba, 29, of 655 N. Prospect St. was listed in "good" condition this morning. He was taken to the hospital in a Hughes-Hyll ambulance.

Patrolmen said he suffered severe lacerations of the left ear, a possible back injury and body bruises when his southbound auto failed to negotiate a curve on Rt. 4 and rolled over, striking a fence.

Huckaba's auto was demolished. The fence was owned by National Lime and Stone Co. of Findlay. The mishap occurred three miles north of Marion at 8:20 p.m. and still is under investigation, officers reported.

A Marysville driver was treated at Marysville Memorial Hospital for a sprained back and body bruises after an accident on Rt. 4 one and one-half miles south of Marion at 10:10 p.m.

Officers said George L. Marshall, 24, was attempting to pass another car when he saw a vehicle approaching in the opposite direction.

He told officers he veered off the right side of the highway to avoid a collision. The vehicle rolled over and was badly damaged. Marshall was charged with passing without assured clear distance.

A Marion area man's car was demolished when it struck a bridge on Rt. 30-S eight miles west of the city at 6 p.m.

Patrolmen said the driver of the eastbound vehicle, Carl C. Margis, 18, told them he swerved off the highway to avoid a collision with a car which made a left turn into his path from County Rd. 30.

Margis sustained bruises of the head, lacerations of the wrist and body bruises. He was treated at General Hospital and released.

Mrs. Jacob Injured

Mrs. Norma O. Jacob, 36, of 206 S. State St., Fifth Ward councilman, was injured in the only traffic accident investigated Tuesday by Marion police. She was driving west on E. Church St. at S. State St. at 5:15 p.m. Her car was struck from the rear by a car driven by Raymond F. Donaugh, 56, of 439 Ballentine Ave., police said.

Mrs. Jacob suffered a minor neck injury and told police that she required no medical attention at the time of the accident. Donaugh said he applied his brakes, but they failed to hold.

Monnette Is Re-Elected City Commission Head

H. W. Monnette was re-elected chairman of the Marion City Civil Service Commission Tuesday night during an organizational meeting held at City Hall.

Other officers named were A. M. Hornby, vice chairman, and Forest Coss, secretary. Dr. M. M. Weinbaum was appointed the physician for the commission.

Edwin B. Spohn was welcomed as a new member. He was appointed recently by Mayor Wendell L. Strong for a six-year term, succeeding Arnold Burnside.

Dies During Opera

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP) — American tenor Frank Eckhart died Tuesday night during a performance of "La Tosca" at the Antwerp Royal Opera.

A Polish-born New Yorker, Eckhart had just finished the main aria. He reached the wings where he died from coronary thrombosis, doctors reported.

Sheep Board To Meet

The directors of the Marion County Sheep Improvement Association will meet at 8 p.m. today in the county extension office, according to Ellwood Parrott, extension director.

News of the District

Galion

Scarbrough Post of the American Legion honored its 1958 baseball team, Coach John Wagner and Manager Frank Looker, with a dinner at Hotel Talbott Monday night prior to the regular meeting of the post. During the meeting at the legion home the out-going members of the team were presented with awards. They are Bill Bryant, Bill Fleiner, Jerry Cross, Jeff Campbell, Bill MacAdam, and Paul Caukel. Recognition also was given the baseball committee composed of Don Lewis, chairman, George Gadely, Jim Mizell and Roy Scott.

An outline of the ping pong and 38 billiards tournaments was given by John Striker. Entries will close March 23. The winning membership team will be given a supper, it was announced by Dean Dion.

—:—

A nominating committee was appointed by C. E. McDonald, president of the Galion Rotary Club Monday night, to prepare a roster of directors and officers for the coming year. He named the Rev. Paul C. Walter, Walter S. Goshorn and Lawrence Bennett to serve on this committee. The club held its dinner meeting Monday night at Hotel Talbott. Marvin O. Adams, superintendent of the Crawford County Children's Home here, presented the program. He showed pictures and gave a talk about his trip around the world when he attended a social welfare conference in Tokyo, Japan, last December. Mr. Adams was introduced by Charles Cleveland, program chairman. The Rev. Knox Roberts of the Bucyrus club was a guest.

Bucyrus

Mr. and Mrs. Larry G. Chandler are making their home here following their marriage on Saturday evening, Feb. 7, in a double ring ceremony performed in Woodlawn Evangelical - United Brethren Church by the Rev. Carl Ayres, pastor.

Mrs. Chandler is the former Anna Marie Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Campbell of near Bucyrus. Mr. Chandler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chandler.

Miss Marie Fuller was maid of honor and Joe Colcott was best man. Ushers were Richard Cotsamire Jr., and Calvin Campbell, a brother of the bride.

A recepton for 100 guests was held in the church basement following the ceremony.

Mrs. Chandler is a graduate of Whetstone High School and Columbus Business University. She is employed here by George L. Boyd, a certified public accountant. Mr. Chandler is a senior at Bucyrus High School and is employed at the Lone Pine Dairy.

—:—

Members of the Women's Auxiliary of Bucyrus Community Hospital have voted to purchase a positive pressure machine for the hospital and to decorate the lobby of the new hospital wing, now under construction. Estimated cost of the lobby decorating project is $2,500. The positive pressure machine, which will cost about $250, will be purchased immediately, and will be used in treating patients sufering from asthma and lung diseases. Such patients now must be transferred to larger hospitals, it was reported.

Crestline

Sandusky Township Farm Bureau Council No. 1 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Miller Saturday night. Lester Tupps presided for business. Mr. Miller presented the topic, "A New Tax Structure, Would It Help Us?"

—:—

Miss Edna Werner of Crestline, financial secretary of the Women's Benefit Association Review No. 63, has been appointed state queen by Mrs. Rose Jelenek, state field director and supreme president of the WBA, and Mrs. Evelyn Fisher, local treasurer, has been appointed lady of ceremonies for the annual state convention to be held in Columbus May 18 and 19.

Wharton

Mrs. Tom Kotterman assisted by Mrs. Charles Walters entertained Saturday afternoon in honor of the sixth birthday of her daughter, Debbie. Guests were Kay Tiell, Peggy Plotts, Betty Sue Fast, Linda Kear, Luann Bristoll, Karen and Cheryl Kotterman, Jan Bell and Ronald and Donald Walters.

Upper Sandusky

Rose Ellen Vaughn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vaughn of Carey, and James L. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cook of Upper Sandusky, were married at 3 p.m. Saturday in the Church of God parsonage here by the Rev. Robert Sturtz of Tiffin.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Poole of Upper Sandusky were attendants.

Held on Check Charge

Ernest Styer, 37, of near Richwood has been bound over to the grand jury on a charge of issuing checks without sufficient funds, Municipal Court officials reported today.

Styer was arrested by sheriff's deputies earlier this month. He was accused by W. F. Rothfuss of passing a worthless $34 54 check. His bond was set at $500.

Film on Activities Of Communists To Be Shown at Rally

"Crimson Shadow," a sound motion picture concerning Communist plans and progress, will be featured here Saturday night at the Marion County Youth for Christ rally at Emmanuel Baptist Church educational building auditorium.

Presented in the film are documented facts concerning communism gathered by Dr. Frederick C. Schwarz, a special consultant for many government agencies. A native of Australia, he is a graduate of the University of Queensland with degrees in science, arts, medicine and surgery and is a former professor of mathematics and science at the Queensland teachers' college.

He has been heard often by service clubs, churches and college groups and has been consulted by state legislatures, U.S. Congress, Central Intelligence Agency, and other government agencies.

Contained in the scenes are examples of Red atrocities to illustrate the danger to the world of communist activity. The spiritual implications involved are emphasized together with the idea that the menace can be overcome by those who love freedom through "dedicated heart."

Time of the rally will be 7:45 and the local Youth for Christ director, the Rev. C. E. Hershey, pastor of Emmanuel Church, will be in charge. The Rev. J. G. Stange of LaRue will be in charge of special music, Ronald Sanderson will lead congregational singing accompanied by Mrs. Richard Kelley and the "Quiz Kids" will compete for points for their respective churches by answering questions based on an assigned portion of Scripture.

Choir, Orchestra Plan Joint Concert

The Epworth Methodist Church Choir and the Marion Symphony Orchestra will combine in presenting a Lenten vesper service Sunday, March 8, at 4 p.m. at the church.

Each organization will present a group of religious numbers in keeping with the holy season. For the finale the instrumentalists and vocalists will be heard together.

The choir is under the direction of George W. Lane and the orchestra under the baton of Edward A. Miller. The program will be open to the public free of charge.

New Council Planned

Plans are being made for a High School Red Cross Council in Marion County. An organizational meeting is scheduled March 3.

The new group will be composed of students from grades 9 through 13 There will be two representatives and a teacher sponsor from each school. Temporary officers are Dave Howison of Harding High School, president; Kathy Haldeman of Harding, vice president and Susan Flynn of Marion Catholic, publicity director.

Local Rotary Hears Talk on Atomic Energy

"Atomic energy can be a force for total destruction or it can mark the greatest scientific advance for the good of mankind in the history of the world."

These alternatives in the use of nuclear power were posed by Thomas C. Van Osdall, professor of chemistry at Ashland College, in an illustrated lecture before the Marion Rotary Club Tuesday noon at Hotel Harding.

Using slides to explain each segment of his talk, Prof. Osdall traced the development of atomic energy from early experiments in France in 1896.

He showed how energy is released by the breakdown of an atom and how atoms are split with a cyclotron.

A formula developed by Einstein provided the greatest step in obtaining energy from matter, he pointed out, and the impetus provided by World War II brought the major breakthrough in this field.

In 1939 a distinguished university scholar predicted it would be 100 years before enough knowledge would be gained to produce an atomic bomb and it took only 6 years, the speaker said.

The Hiroshima atom bomb operated at only 1-10 of 1 per cent efficiency yet equaled 20,000 tons of TNT, he said. The H-bomb will produce an explosion equivalent to 1 to 10 million tons of TNT, he declared.

The speaker was introduced by Marion Shank. Dr. Charles W. Wilson, vice president, presided at the meeting.

George Brown introduced the guests, R. D. Parr of Elmhurst, Ill., and Gene Durken of St. Joseph, Mich.

B. F. Goodrich To Shut Plant in Cadillac, Mich.

The B. F. Goodrich Industrial Products Company announced in Akron today its decision to terminate plant operations in Cadillac, Mich. The plant produces molded and extruded parts for the automotive industry. It currently employs about 200 persons.

Clyde O. DeLong, president of the company, said the action will be effective on or about May 1, 1959, when commitments are filled for materials needed on 1959 model automobiles.

He expressed regret for the action, but emphasized that the decision was reached only after long and careful deliberation. He stated that the company's personnel department will co-operate in every way to help employes find new jobs.

Knickel, 22, of near Cardington, $15, and costs (suspended), failure to heed stop sign; Margie J. Irey, 19, of near Caledonia, $15 and costs, failure to have assured clear distance ahead; Harley L. James, 22, of 369 Milburn Ave., $25 and costs, speeding.

—Crawford—

BUCYRUS — Fremon M. Siefer, 63, of New Washington, charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, was jailed Tuesday in one of six arrests made by patrolmen. He was slated to appear in Bucyrus Mayor's Court today.

Three of the four drivers cited to appear in Upper Sandusky Municipal Court were charged with speeding. They were: Charles F. Condon, 61, of Cleveland; Andrew Z. VanHooser, 32, of 765 Davids St., Marion, and Glenn E. Parks, 28, of near Nevada.

William H. Nickless, 42, of Upper Sandusky, charged with unsafe operation, was cited to appear in Upper Sandusky Municipal Court also.

Robert W. Messenger, 37, of 144 Merchant Ave., Marion, was cited to appear in Crestline Mayor's Court to answer a stop sign violation charge.

—Upper Sandusky—

UPPER SANDUSKY — John W. Sigler of Upper Sandusky entered a plea of not guilty but was found guilty of driving while intoxicated and fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in the county jail, and lost his driving rights for 60 days when he appeared in Upper Sandusky Municipal court Monday. Arrest was by local police.

Troy Mullins of Dante, Va., was fined $10 and costs on a charge of failure to maintain assured clear distance in a minor traffic accident. He was cited by the sheriff's department.

Donald England of Sycamore was fined $20 and costs on a charge of disturbing the peace, filed by Catherine Weaver, Sycamore, through the sheriff's department. He was unable to pay and was committed to the county jail.

Adam G. Gottfried of Upper Sandusky was committed to the county jail when he was unable to pay a fine of $15 and costs on a speeding charge filed by the state highway patrol.

Cited by the sheriff's department on a speeding charge Ward D. Mumaw of Orrville, forfeited appearance bond of $30.

—Galion—

GALION — Julius Forrest Romine, 57, of near Galion was fined $10 and costs Monday by Mayor Edward H. Jones on a reckless operation charge and $10 and $10 and costs on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. The first fine and costs were suspended.

Yankees Open Camp, Mantle Refuses Offers

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mickey Mantle misses the opening of spring training for the first time today as he sweats out a contract dispute with the world's champion New York Yankees.

The power man of the Yankees, who wants more money—reportedly he is seeking $75,000 a season —will sign countless autographs for the kids who flock to his new bowling alley. But he isn't about to put his signature on a Yankee contract until he gets $5,000 more than New York reportedly is offering him.

Or is he?

Mantle didn't say he would retreat from his stand but he did say "I've got to play baseball." He added that "I don't know if I'll be playing for the Yankees or not. They could trade me."

But it sounded a little hollow for Mantle, who has played with the mighty Yankees for eight years, to talk about being traded.

The Yankees start training in St. Petersburg, Fla., today but Mickey said he planned no calls to officials of the club and would "just sit and wait and see what happens."

Will Get Commission

Graham Accepts Coaching Position With Coast Guard

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — Former pro football great Otto Graham today was named head football coach at the Coast Guard Academy.

Graham also was appointed director of athletics.

Rear Adm. Frank A. Leamy, superintendent of the academy, said the former Cleveland Browns quarterback will become a commander in the Coast Guard Reserve with his acceptance of the positions.

Graham will arrive in New London Sunday and begin spring practice sessions on Monday. He replaces Nelson W. Nitchman, who was relieved of the position in November after 12 years at the academy.

At his home near Cleveland, Graham said:

"I feel happy about going into coaching and about my new job. It's a great opportunity for me. I'll be in New London Monday to start spring training."

Graham said the decision to take the job was a tough one because he hated to leave Cleveland. He said he has the assurance of a long-term contract, and added:

"But I'm not worried about that, because I intend to be there forever."

Marion Students At OWU To Play In Music Festival

Two Marion students will participate in the annual Festival of Chamber Music at Ohio Wesleyan University, opening March 5 with a performance of the Juilliard String Quartet.

The two students will perform in the second concert of the series, scheduled Sunday, March 8, at 3:30 p.m.

Robert Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Griffith of 232 S. Grand Ave., will play bassoon in one of the two instrumental ensembles appearing on the program. He is a freshman majoring in music.

Wendy Wikholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendel Wikholm of the Marion Engineer Depot, is soprano soloist in the cast for the one-act opera, "Sunday Excursion," being featured in the same concert. She is a sophomore majoring in music.

The Juilliard String Quartet program will be held in Sanborn Hall March 5 at 8:15 p.m. The quartet's numbers will be "Quartet in B Flat Major, K458" by Mozart "Quartet in F Major, Op. 135" by Beethoven, and "Quartet No. 6" by Bartok.

The Duvall Trio and Mrs. Martha Bowlus, organist, will present the third concert at 8:15 p.m. Monday, March 9. Members of the trio, all OWU faculty members, are: Richard Skerlong, violin; Frederick Miller, cello, and Robert Lawrence, piano.

The instrumental group will play "Trio in D Major, Op. 70, No. 1" by Beethoven and a trio by Walter Piston.

Mrs. Bowlus will play "Concerto for Organ" by Telemann and "Trio Sonata in D Minor" by Corelli, accompanied by Prof. and Mrs. Skerlong, violinists, and Prof. Miller, cello.

New Gasoline Station Planned on West Side

Work is expected to begin within the next two weeks, weather permitting, on the construction of a new Standard Oil service station at the intersection of Davids St. and Woodrow and Bellefontaine Aves.

That was the word this morning from C. G. Young, construction maintenance manager for Standard Oil in Marion. Razing of buildings now standing on the site began last week and is currently under way.

The contract for the new facility has been let to the Baldauf Construction Co. The station will be of the two-bay type, Mr. Young said. Weather conditions will determine how soon grading and fill operations can begin, he added.

Combat Readiness Check

Air Force Plans To Test Ohio Guard Squadrons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — This weekend the federal government determines if Ohio's Air National Guard is worth the money spent on it.

A team of 35 specialists from 14th Air Force headquarters in Georgia will conduct an operational readiness inspection. They'll be less interested in pressed pants and shined shoes than in the guard's ability to go into quick action.

Accordingly, the federal inspectors have set up a war situation for Ohio's 121st Tactical Fighter Wing.

THE ASSUMPTION is that enemy ground forces have landed along the Gulf Coast and pushed north to the Michigan-Indiana border and east to the Indiana-Ohio border, controlling Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama.

It will be the job of Ohio Air Guard pilots to hit the "enemy" advance areas with simulated nuclear bombs. The actual target area will be the Atterbury Bomb Range in Indiana.

Every Ohio Air Guard pilot who is qualified will fly an F84F Thunderstreak jet fighter-bomber on the sorties, and drop a mock nuclear bomb. Observers will study the sorties from the air and ground to see how well the Ohio pilots do.

How well—or badly—the Ohioans do will probably be kept secret for security reasons. However, the inspection team will submit a report to the Ohio wing's top officers.

Other phases of the 2,000-man organization's mission will also be under study this weekend. A fighter squadron at Toledo Express Airport is consideredfiro a ple-ra Airport is considered for all practical purposes to be under the Air National Guard wing from Indiana, but Ohio has jet squadrons at Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, and the airports at Springfield and Mansfield.

OTHER UNITS train at Akron-Canton, Zanesville and Blue Ash in Hamilton County. The federal government has an approximate 96 million dollar investment in the Ohio Air Guard equipment and facilities, Brig. Gen. E. O. Clark, assistant adjutant general for air, estimates. This does not include salaries.

Air Guard officials are quick to point out that the cost to keep a similar combat fighter wing on full-time duty would be considerably greater. If the Ohio wing were called to active duty in a national emergency, it might first serve as part of America's air defense system, flying to intercept enemy aircraft.

Then, depending on developments, the Ohioans might serve as part of Tactical Air Command, bombing, strafing and delivering nuclear weapons against ground forces, as they will be doing this weekend in the readiness inspection.

Generosity, wrong placed, becometh a vice; a princely mind will undo a private family.—Thomas Fuller.

Judge Backs School Head's Use of Paddle

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The abortive teen-age rebellion at Bartlett High will soon be history, put down by a polished maple paddle swung by Principal John Barnes.

Three more young pupils are on the waiting list for seven whacks. Fourteen have felt the sting thus far. Judge Willard Dixon heartily approves.

The judge, at a conference with seven angry parents in his office Tuesday, rejected demands for assault warrants against Barnes.

Two of the mothers came armed with photographs of their sons' smarting bottoms. The judge, after expert appraisal, said he had acquired worse bottoms himself for less.

The boys needed the whacking, he ruled. He cited a State Supreme Court ruling that teachers have, to a reasonable degree, the disciplinary rights of parents while the child is in their care.

Several of the boys, 15 to 17 and wearing injured expressions, stood in a corner during the conference.

Barnes said it all started when he removed a soft drink machine from the school cafeteria because too many lead slugs were turning up in the coin box.

In retaliation, about 20 boys tried to organize a cafeteria boycott. Those caught had the choice of taking seven whacks from the paddle or taking the matter up with their parents.

Next Trouble Spot in Caribbean?

Uprising Reported Brewing in Haiti

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Negro republic of Haiti may become the next major trouble spot in the Caribbean.

Daniel Fignole, radical leader of the impoverished masses of the Haitian capital Port au Prince, has ordered his followers in a broadcast from Cuba to get ready for a general strike aimed at overthrowing the government of President Francois Duvalier.

Another exiled opposition leader, Louis Dejoie, who has strong influence in the upper class and among women and shopkeepers, has been broadcasting the same message in recent weeks.

HAITIANS LISTEN to thes broadcasts and there is an air of anxiety and expectancy.

Haiti is the ham in the Caribbean sandwich — stuck between two blood enemies, Fidel Castro's new Cuba and Rafael Trujillo's tough dictatorship in the Dominican Republic.

This uncomfortable position combines with a desperate economic crisis, with continuing hatreds among Haitian political factions and with the absence of an efficient government based on popular support, to add up to an unstable situation which could explode at any time.

President Duvalier was voted into office in an army-run election in September 1957 after 10 months of political turmoil following the ouster of strongman President Paul Magloire. Duvalier has virtual dictatorial powers. He gives the impression now of a man of arbitrary temperament with jittery nerves.

IN JANUARY Duvalier, under the shock of Castro's success in Cuba, attempted to remove the stigma of dictatorship from his regime by freeing all political opponents whom he had jailed, including some sentenced to death. A liberalization of his rule was proclaimed.

But now, in fear of an invasion by his Haitian opponents from Cuba, Duvalier is clamping down hard and uttering dire threats. He has banned all exit visas for Haitians — presumably to hold within the country any who would like to join anti-Duvalier forces.

In firebrand declarations during impromptu speeches he has declared that should his enemies seek to overthrow him he would unlash a total revolution and not leave one stone on another in Port au Prince.

Cheery Greeting Mailed By Wife of Jailed Man

WAUSAW, Wis. (AP) — When Marathon County Undersheriff Louis Gianoli was clearing a waste basket used by inmates at the county jail, he found a card from a wife on the outside to her husband on the inside. It read:

"There's cheer in the message
"This greeting brings—
"Even when caged,
"A bird still sings."

Anti-Communist Laws Should Be Tightened, ABA Believes

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Bar Assn. says Congress should tighten laws designed principally to curb Communists.

Voting approval Tuesday of a committee report which made such a recommendation, the ABA's ruling House of Delegates noted officially that some recent Supreme Court decisions dealing with Communist activity and internal security "have been severely criticized and deemed unsound by many responsible authorities."

In general, the report asks Congress to take another look at some recent Supreme Court decisions and amend the questioned laws to remove any doubts as to the intent of the legislators. Any proposals to limit the Supreme Court's jurisdiction are opposed.

But the report noted that differences over some court rulings "have given rise not only to severe criticism of the decisions, but unfortunately to condemnation of the court itself. It advocates a clear definition of the powers of the House Committee on un-American Activities.

In a stormy session ending the 246-member House's two-day session, Loyd Wright of Los Angeles, former ABA president, led the fight to delay a vote on the report until the annual ABA meeting in Miami in August.

"We owe the people of this country enough to tell them what the Communists are doing," Wright said. ". . . Isn't it time we told the court to read the law and stop writing ideological opinions?"

Trouble Averted

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Vermilion County sheriff deputies answered a call from a bartender who said there was a riot.

When they arrived, they found the customers crying in their beer.

Bartender Arnold Keller set off a tear gas bomb to quiet them.

Local Ad Agency Joins Nationwide Marketing Group

Local, regional or national marketing surveys related to both industrial and consumer products are currently available to Ohio manufacturers and service organizations through Market Development Associates, Inc., a new service facility established recently by a group of 37 medium-sized advertising agencies coast to coast.

This announcement was made today by Howard Swink, president of Howard Swink, Inc., of Marion, who is the central Ohio representative for the new market development group.

"Set up with a single purpose in mind, that of offering manufacturers the facilities and advantages of a nationwide network of marketing specialists equipped to provide on-the-spot information in 37 important market areas throughout the U.S. and Canada, MDA is expected to fill a long-time need," Mr. Swink said.

"Through MDA, each member of the group will be able to offer a wide variety of marketing and merchandising services to every other member. Furthermore, the services will be provided by personnel with specialized training and experience who know exactly how to get the information requested. From the standpoint of market coverage, we think MDA is the most complete network that has ever been made available to businessmen charged with marketing and merchandising responsibilities.

"Telephone surveys and skilled personal interviews with retailers, jobbers, consumers, wholesale distributors and key business executives, are typical of the kind of services MDA will provide—as an aid to the promotion and ultimate sale of consumer and industrial products," he said.

Erie Reports Loss

NEW YORK — Erie Railroad operated at a loss of $905,783 in January, Harry W. Von Willer, president, announced today. In January last year, the railroad had a loss of $887,136.

In issuing the statement, the Erie president said: "The heavy rains and floods in mid-January not only did considerable damage to our equipment and facilities, but caused many plants along our line to close down, resulting in a loss of traffic."

P. Oborn, Jr., and Paul Kraner, Executors of the Estate of Philip H. Haas, deceased, on the 6th day of February, 1959, filed their petition in the Probate Court within and for the County of Marion and State of Ohio, alleging that the provisions of said decedent's will charged the real estate of which he died seized, with the payment of legacies; that decedent died seized, in fee simple, of the following described real estate, to wit:

TRACT I. Situated in the Township of Richland in the County of Marion and in the State of Ohio and being the South East Quarter (¼) of the North West Quarter (¼) of the South East Quarter (¼) of Section Thirteen (13) Township six (6) South, Range Sixteen East.

Also, the East One Half (½) of the South West Quarter (¼) of the North West Quarter (¼) of the South East Quarter (¼) of said Section Thirteen (13) Township Six (6) South, Range Sixteen East containing in all fifteen (15) acres of land, subject to all legal highways.

TRACT II. Situated in the Township of Richland, County of Marion and State of Ohio. Being the east half (½) of the southwest quarter (¼) of Section 13, Township 6 South, of Range 16 East containing twenty (20) acres, more or less.

TRACT III. Situated in the Township of Richland, in the County of Marion and in the State of Ohio, and known as Fifteen Acres off of the East End of the North Half of the North West Quarter of Section Twenty-four in fractional Township Six (6) South of Range Sixteen (16) in the district of Lands Subject to Sale at Bucyrus, Ohio.

Also in the same Township, County and State and being known as the West Half of the North Half of the North East Quarter of Section Twenty-four (24) in fractional Township Six South of Range Sixteen (16) in the District of Lands subject to sale at Bucyrus, Ohio, containing forty acres, more or less, containing in the aggregate fifty-five acres more or less.

TRACT IV. Situated in the County of Morrow, in the State of Ohio and in the Township of Cardington and bounded and described as follows: And known as being Fifteen acres of land more or less in Section nineteen (19) Township Six (6) Range Seventeen (17) and described as follows to wit: Being that part of the West half of the East half of the South East Quarter of said Section Nineteen (19) lying North of the road running Westerly from Cardington and terminating near the residence of Sylvester Benedict and bounded on the North and East by lands of F. Ruehmond on the South by said County road and on the West by lands of said Sylvester Benedict, . . that the unknown heirs, legatees, devisees, administrators, executors and assigns of the above named deceased persons respectively, and others, claim some interest in Tract I and Tract III of the above described real estate; that such interest is unfounded and without right and constitutes a cloud upon decedent's title to said real estate.

The prayer of the petition is that the defendants named as claiming some interest in Tract I and Tract III of said real estate be required to set forth the nature of their claims; that any adverse claims be determined and declared null and void; that such defendants be forever enjoined from asserting the same; that decendent be adjudged the owner of said real estate at the time of his death and his title thereto be quieted; that plaintiffs be authorized and ordered to sell all of said real estate above described to pay the legacies according to the direction of decedent's will; and for all other and further relief.

The persons above mentioned will further take notice that they have been made parties defendant to said petition and that they are required to answer the same on or before the 16th day of April, 1959.

WHAT'S EATING YOU, GINGER? HE DESERVED WHAT HE GOT!
WOODY, I CAN'T UNDERSTAND YOU! THERE ARE TIMES WHEN YOU'RE AS THOUGHTFUL AND SWEET AS ANYONE CAN BE... AND AT OTHER TIMES...
AT OTHER TIMES, WHAT?
YOU FRIGHTEN ME, WOODY! I BEGIN TO THINK YOU MUST BE ILL...SERIOUSLY ILL!

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

AND THERE THEY STOOD—WITH ONLY A MOUNTAIN RANGE BETWEEN THEM AND SAFETY...
NOT FAR TO GO, MINERVA! STAY CLOSE TO THE WALL—AND WALK IN THE RUTS—SO YOU DON'T LEAVE FOOTPRINTS!
STEVE—THIS IS A GLIDER CLUB...LOCKED UP TIGHT!
THE GRAND OPENING WILL BE EARLY THIS YEAR!
I—I DON'T LIKE TO BE NOSY, BUT DID YOU HAVE IT IN MIND TO SOAR OUT OF HERE?
RIGHT! I REMEMBER THIS TOWN HAVING A GOOD CLUB WITH TWO-PLACE JOBS!
THE ALTERNATIVE IS A KANGAROO TRIAL AND A FIRING SQUAD!
I DIDN'T SAY ANYTHING, SIR! I WAS MERELY STANDING HERE STROKING MY GOOSE BUMPS!

THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake

TOO RICH FOR A WORKING GIRL'S BUDGET, COUNT—
I DIDN'T STAND AROUND WAITING FOR YOU ON THAT COLD PAVEMENT FOR AN HOUR TO WOLF DOWN A SOGGY DOUBLE-DECKER, MY DEAR GIRL—
ALL I CAN SAY IS, YOU MUST BE A VERY RICH MAN—
ON THE CONTRARY, I'M AS POOR AS A CHURCH MOUSE—OF ROYAL LINEAGE, NATURALLY.
I—I THOUGHT YOU'D CALL ME LAST NIGHT—
BELIEVE ME, EVE, I WOULD HAVE IF—IF BUSINESS HADN'T INTERFERED!
